SAME OLD TICKET NAMED BY PROHIS

Eugene W. Chafin and Aaron S. Watkins Nominated By Convention

NAME WILL NOT BE CHANGED

Delegates Had to Hurry Home and Party Will Still Be Called Prohibitionist — Fight Over Representation

Atlantic City, N. J., July 12.—The National Prohibition Convention concluded its labors here tonight with the nomination of the party standard bearers of four years ago—Eugene W. Chafin, of Arizona, for president, and Aaron S. Watkins, of Ohio, for vice president. In each case the nomination was made by acclamation after a single ballot had indicated the preference of the delegates.

Four candidates for president were placed in nomination against Mr. Chafin. They were F. W. Emerson, of California; Finley C. Hendrickson, of Maryland; Aaron S. Watkins, of Ohio, and Andrew Jackson Houston, of Texas. Each in turn withdrew his name after the first ballot, Mr. Houston creating enthusiasm by the statement he would rather receive the lowest vote in the Prohibition convention than the highest in either the Democratic or Republican convention.

The leading candidates against Mr. Watkins for vice president were Mr. Emerson, of California and George E. Stockwell, of New York. Both of the party candidates were called to the platform and made brief speeches. Mr. Chafin said he regarded the nomination as the greatest political honor bestowed upon any man this year. He thanked the convention for his second nomination, and promised not to stand for a third term.

After the nomination of officers the convention was forced to rush its business to a conclusion as many of the delegates were leaving for their homes. Because of this the proposal to change the name of the party was not taken up for general discussion and action.

A. J. Orem, of Massachusetts, in a brief speech, promised to pledge more money to the campaign fund should the name be changed.

"I believe we could make the campaign fund double if we should adopt a new name," said Mr. Orem. "We would be greatly aided in carrying our banner to success if we should adopt the name 'Progressive.'"

There were many shouts of "protest" to this as well as to the name "Conservative party." suggested by Rev. S. H. Taft, of California.

The convention adjourned after a wrangle over a proposed change in the representation on the National Committee. A proposal that instead of each State having two representatives on the National Committee the representation be according to the size of the Prohibition vote, one member for each 5,000 votes, aroused considerable opposition. The matter was referred to the new National Committee for settlement.

JURY CANNOT AGREE

No Verdict Yet Reached In Claude Allen Case

Wytheville, Va., July 12.—After being out from 5:30 o'clock this afternoon until 9:30 o'clock tonight the jury in the case of Claude Allen, on trial for participation in the Hillsville Court House tragedy of last March, announced that it had not reached an agreement, and court adjourned until 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

It was announced this afternoon that Friel Allen, nephew of Floyd Allen, who has already been convicted of murder in the first degree, carrying with it the death penalty for his part in the Court House shooting, would next be placed in trial, Wednesday, July 17th, being the date named for the trial. He will be charged with the murder of Commonwealth's Attorney Foster. Judge Walter R. Staples, who is presiding, suggested that the remainder of the cases be consolidated, but the attorneys failed to reach an agreement on this.

HESTER'S STATEMENT

World's Visible Supply of Cotton Is 2,976,569 Bales

New Orleans, July 12.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton, issued today, shows the total visible to be 2,976,569, against 3,187,329 last week, and 2,087,294 last year. Of this, the total of American cotton is 2,014,569, against 2,194,329 last week and 1,113,294 last year, and of all other kinds including Egypt, Brazil, India, etc., 962,000, against 993,000 last week and 974 last year. Of the world's visible supply of cotton as above, there is now afloat and held in Great Britain and continental Europe 1,894,000, against 1,208,000 last year; in Egypt 75,000, against 93,000 last year; in India 588,000, against 529,000 last year, and in the United States 420,000, against 267,000 last year.

Norfolk, Va., July 12.—The U. S. naval collier Orion, recently completed at Sparrow's Point, Md., arrived in Hampton Roads today, following her trial trip at sea.

W. J. BURNS AT S. C. DISPENSARY PROBE

Detective Claims He Has Evidence of Grafting By Gov. Blease

PARDON SECURED FOR $2,000

Evidence Submitted to Investigating Committee to Show Governor Was Paid for Blocking Railroad Legislation.

Augusta, July 12.—Detective William J. Burns was the star witness today before the special investigating committee of the South Carolina Legislature, which instituted its probe here today into the old State dispensary system. The hearing was primarily called to take the testimony of Thomas B. Felder, the Atlanta attorney, who represented the commission which wound up the dispensary affairs.

Testifying at tonight's session of the hearing Detective Burns asserted that recorus which will be introduced by his men would show "whether or not Governor Cole L. Blease, of South Carolina, has been grafting as Governor and Senator."

Evidence taken by a telephonic device and personally by a Burns detective was submitted today purporting to show that Governor Blease secured $2,000 for pardoning Rudolph Rabon, convicted of harboring stolen goods. Testimony from the same source was to the effect that Governor Blease received $500 for blocking railroad legislation, $200 for thwarting the first attempted dispensary investigation and that the Governor gets his share of the blind tiger "protection" money from Charleston, S. C.

Detective Burns was quoted from the witness stand as declaring that the San Francisco graft cases were infinitesimal "compared with the conditions which have existed in South Carolina."

Thos. B. Felder, in his testimony, earlier in the day made sensational charges of official corruption in South Carolina. During his testimony he denounced Governor Blease and accused him of having "fattened upon graft", and of having been paid both to defeat and not to defeat legislation.

After relating his connection with the dispensary the witness told a strating story of unlimited graft, of legislative "syndicates", alleged to have been controlled by Cole L. Blease as Senator, and of pardons said to have been purchased from the Governor, one in Charleston having cost $2,000.

Col. Felder also testified in regard to an alleged deal made in Atlanta by H. H. Evans, dispensary commissioner and his attorney, Cole L. Blease, with a wholesale whiskey house. The deal, Felder testified, was for adding rebates to the cost of whiskey sold the State dispensary so the rebates could be turned over to the dispensary board of control by the wholesalers.

In conclusion Mr. Felder testified that Governor Blease and Chief Constable Sothart shared in a monthly protection tax levied on "blind tigers" in Charleston.

Tonight's session of the hearing closed with William J. Burns on the stand.

Detective Reed will take the stand tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

There were several hundred people in the court room this morning by 10 o'clock, when the hearing was scheduled to begin. Some of the leading politicians of South Carolina were on hand and the most intense interest was shown in the testimony to be furnished because of Mr. Felder's statement to the effect that a tremendous sensation would probably be developed.

Mr. Felder has had some very hard things to say of Governor Blease, and with the promise of revealing other and more sensational evidence in the famous dispensary case, the audience was on the tiptoe of expectancy. This was before the announcement that Burns was coming. When the announcement was made there was great speculation as to just what the famous detective would disclose.

Mr. Felder announced at the beginning of the hearing that he was represented by Burton Smith and Carl Hutchinson, of Atlanta; E. H. Callaway, Boykin Wright, C. E. Dunbar and W. K. Miller, of Augusta, and W. H. Davis, of Waynesboro.

When the hearing was resumed at 12 o'clock, Mr. E. F. Reed, chief operator for Detective Burns, made an experiment with a dictagraph. He showed the committee how a conversation in a closed room some distance away could be heard plainly in the court room. When Detective Burns arrived he was given an ovation.

Col. Felder took the stand shortly after 1 o'clock and went into the history of his employment by the South Carolina State in the winding up of the old dispensary commission's affairs. He charged graft on the part of H. H. Evans, a dispensary commissioner, and his attorney at that time, Coleman Blease, now Governor of South Carolina. He said that rebates were received by Evans in Atlanta and that on one occasion he was given $4,000 in $1,000 bills by a whiskey dealer. Felder said Evans had confessed to his guilt and had cried while begging him not to send him to the penitentiary. The famous letter which, it was charged, Felder had written to H. H. Evans inviting him to go into a plan

Unmercifully Flays Third Termer

Washington, D. C., July 12.—Senator LaFollette threw a bomb shell into the camp of the third-termer upon the issuance today of "LaFollette's Weekly," which contains as a leader an article entitled "The Case of Mr. Roosevelt," in which the course of Mr. Bryan at Baltimore, and the action of Mr. Roosevelt at Chicago, are contrasted as leading Progressives, very much to the discredit of the latter, who is pointed out as "a most striking example of misdirected power and unworthy ambition." Senator LaFollette says that Mr. Roosevelt offers no reason for a third party except "his own overmastering craving for a third term."

LAFOLLETTE ATTACKS TEDDY

Gives Graphic Description of Situation at Chicago Convention—Motives Behind Roosevelt and Bryan Contrasted.

Washington, July 12.—Under the caption, "The Case of Mr. Roosevelt," Senator LaFollette has written the following editorial in the current number of LaFollette's Weekly:

"Bryan at Baltimore, foregoing all chance of his own nomination, marshaling all his forces, braving Tammany and the trusts, to rescue his party from their domination, carrying the convention for the adoption of the most progressive Democratic platform yet offered, and the nomination of the most progressive Democratic candidate available, was a towering figure of moral power and patriotic devotion to civic righteousness.

"Roosevelt at Chicago, backed by money derived from the stock-watering operations of the Steel Trust and the Harvester Trust, organizing what are now confessed to have been fake contests as to nearly 200 delegates in order to control the Republican convention and secure his own nomination, refusing to aid in making a progressive platform, bound to have the nomination or destroy the Republican party, was a most striking example of misdirected power and unworthy ambition.

"Roosevelt had as great an opportunity to serve the progressive cause at Chicago as Bryan had at Baltimore. But Roosevelt was serving the man, not the cause. He wanted one thing—he wanted the nomination. And yet he did not have enough votes to nominate himself upon any honest basis. He did have enough delegates in that convention ultimately to have nominated a real progressive and adopted a strong progressive platform. He could even have nominated Hadley on such a platform, and progressive Republicans could have supported Hadley in much the same spirit as hundreds of thousands of them will now support Wilson. Neither Hadley nor Wilson are veterans in the progressive ranks. Neither of them has been tried by the severest tests. Both appear to be men of high ideals whose records, though short, give promise.

"But Roosevelt would not consider Hadley. He would have no one but himself. At the first suggestion of Hadley, he ordered the third party maneuvers, lest he lose his followers.

"If he had the evidence to prove that Taft could not be honestly and fairly nominated, why did he not direct his lieutenants to present that evidence to the National Committee, and then to the convention and the country so clearly that the convention would not have dared to nominate Taft, and that Taft could not, in honor, have accepted the nomination, if made.

"The reason is obvious. An analysis of the testimony will, I am convinced, show that neither Taft nor Roosevelt had a majority of honestly or regularly elected delegates. This the managers upon both sides well understood. Each candidate was trying to seat a sufficient number of fraudulently credentialed delegates, added to those regularly chosen to support him, to secure control of the convention, and 'steamroll' the nomination. It was a proceeding with which each was acquainted, and which each had sanctioned in prior conventions.

"This explains the extraordinary conduct of Roosevelt. He could not enter upon such an analysis of the evidence as would prove Taft's regularly elected delegates in the minority,

A SWEEPING INTERPRETATION

Foreign Born Children of All Classes of Naturalized Citizens Admitted to U. S. by Decision of Secretary Nagel.

Washington, July 12.—All bars restricting the admission to the United States of minor foreign born children of naturalized citizens, whether imbeciles, idiots or other forbidden classes, were swept away today by a far-reaching interpretation of the immigration and naturalization laws by Secretary Nagel, of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

The Secretary authorized the entry into this country from Russia of little 11 1-2-year-old Riwke Polayes, who has been held at Ellis Island, N. Y., for several weeks threatened with deportation on the certificate of surgeons of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service that she is an imbecile. Granting she is an imbecile, the secretary held that the immigration laws were not applicable to her because her father, Jacob Playes, of New Haven, Conn., is a naturalized citizen.

Mr. Nagel interpreted the law to mean that the naturalization of a man conferred American citizenship upon all his minor children as soon as they relinquished their residence abroad.

This decision completely overturned the previous policy of the government. The law provides that minor children of an alien who are living in the Unit-

OUTLINES

The National Prohibition Convention yesterday nominated Eugene W. Chafin, of Arizona, and Aaron S. Watkins, of Ohio, as the party's candidates for President and Vice President, respectively, this being the same ticket which was placed in the field in 1908.

The Senate again failed yesterday to take a vote on the Lorimer case and recessed until 10 o'clock this morning out of consideration for the accused Senator. Senator Lorimer made a bitter attack on John W. Kern.

By a far reaching interpretation of the immigration laws by Secretary Nagel, all bars restricting the admission of foreign born children of naturalized citizens were swept away yesterday.

Two prominent LaFollette men will call on Governor Wilson today and it is said they will support the Democratic nominee. Champ Clark will also call on the Governor this afternoon.

Wm. J. Burns, the detective, who was a star witness at the South Carolina dispensary probe yesterday, claimed he had evidence that Governor Cole L. Blease had pardoned a man for $2,000 and was guilty of other grafting.

Col. Roosevelt declared yesterday that the idea of sectionalism would not be tolerated in the new party, and said the movement was nation-wide.

American athletes won two events at the Olympic games at Stockholm yesterday, these being the 110 meters race and the broad jump. A Boston boy was disqualified, and for a few minutes an international clash was threatened.

LORIMER VOTE IS AGAIN POSTPONED

Recess Taken Till This Morning When Senator Will Conclude

BITTER ATTACK UPON KERN

Lorimer Issues Challenge to Indiana Man—Cases of 'Four Confessors" Reviewed—More Argument Probable

Washington, July 12.—The Senate failed again to come to a vote on the resolution to declare vacant the seat of William Lorimer, of Illinois. Consideration for Senator Lorimer, who held the floor for five hours with the continuation of his speech defending his title, induced the Senate to recess at 4:10 o'clock until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. A bitter attack upon Senator Kern, of Indiana, which characterized Mr. Lorimer's speech today, may further prolong the debate that precedes the vote on the Lea resolution. He charged Senator Kern with misstating the facts of the Lorimer case, with "sliming and smearing over the record," and with making charges agaist him (Lorimer) for which there was no ground of fact or evidence.

In the end Mr. Lorimer issued a direct challenge to Senator Kern to point to "anything in his private, financial, commercial or political life" where Mr. Lorimer had been guilty of any wrong doing.

He pledged himself to resign, "relieve the Senate of the embarrassment of a vote," and walk from the Senate chamber never to return if Senator Kern "made good."

The Indiana Senator was absent from the chamber during the Lorimer attack, as were Senators Lea and Kenyon, against whom Mr. Lorimer had also been bitterly denunciatory during his speech. When Senator Kern returned later to the chamber the impression spread that he would answer Senator Lorimer's charges before the final vote is taken.

While an effort will be made to reach the final vote tomorrow the injection of further argument by Senator LaFollette or one or two other Senators who are inclined to discuss the case, may prolong it into next week.

Mr. Lorimer's challenge to the minority members of the Lorimer investigating committee, to produce the evidence to bear out their alleged "insinuations" as to his connection with bribery in the Illinois Legislature, was but one feature of several that made Lorimer's defense today partake of the spectacular. He assailed Kern as the Pharisee who sat before him with a "holier-than-thou" expression upon his face. He characterized him as having been "chasing the ghost" in the Baltimore convention.

The evidence upon which Lorimer's expulsion from the Senate is demanded was taken up in detail by the accused Senator. He reviewed the cases of the "four confessors," as he termned them, upon whose alleged confessions that they had received money at Springfield, Ill., much of the case against him had been built. Charles A. White, he said, was an acknowledged perjurer; while he declared that Beckemeyer, Link and Holstaw, the other three, had never confessed to being paid anything for voting for Lorimer.

EMPLOYES WILL STRIKE

Metal Workers at Newport News Frown on Bonus System

Newport News, Va., July 12.—Nine metal trades unions, affecting about 2,000 men employed at the plant of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, tonight voted to strike if the shipbuilding company puts into effect in their departments the bonus system which the company has announced will be inaugurated in every department of the plant. According to a "stick together agreement" signed tonight by representatives of the nine unions the day the objectionable system is put into force, every man affiliated with the unions will walk out, thereby, it is expected, practically tying up the entire plant and delaying much of the rush work now at the yard. It is said that the officials of the company are firm in their decision to adopt the piece work system and matters probably will reach a crisis early next week.

EDUCATORS ADJOURN

Fiftieth Annual Convention Closes—General Session

Chicago, July 12.—The 50th annual convention of the National Education Association closed tonight. E. T. Fairchild, the new president, said undoubtedly the executive committee at a meeting in the Autumn would ratify the selection of Salt Lake City, Utah, for next year's meeting. Meetings of departments and a general session tonight at which Albert E. Winship, Boston; Baroness Bertha von Suttner, Vienna, and Luther Halsey Gulick, of the Russell Sage Foundation, were the chief speakers, ended this year's meeting.

LAFOLLETTE MEN FOR WILSON

Two Original Followers of Wisconsin Candidate Will Call at Seagirt Today—Clark Expected This Afternoon.

Seagirt, N. J., July 12.—Charles R. Crane, of Chicago, who contributed heavily to Senator LaFollette's campaign fund, and Charles Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin, Senator LaFollette's ardent supporter prior to the Chicago convention, will take luncheon tomorrow with Governor Wilson here a short time before the expected arrival of Speaker Champ Clark. News of their coming was made public by Governor Wilson tonight.

Close friends of the Governor said during the afternoon that Mr. Crane had transferred his preference from the Wisconsin Senator to Governor Wilson and would be willing to do all he could to bring about the success of the Democratic ticket. The telegram announcing Mr. Crane's acceptance of the Governor's invitation to luncheon followed on the heels of this statement. As one of the original contributors and the donor of the largest sum to the LaFollette campaign fund, Mr. Crane helped make possible the "Senator's fight for the Republican nomination." His indicated espousal of Governor Wilson's cause is hailed by the Governor's advisers as an index to the sentiment which prevails among LaFollette's former followers.

President Van Hise has been for years a warm supporter of Senator LaFollette, but has held no public office.

It is not unlikely that Messrs. Crane and Van Hise will meet Speaker Clark here tomorrow afternoon. Mr. Clark is expected shortly after 2 o'clock. The Governor will sit down to luncheon with his guests at 1 o'clock and a conference is scheduled to follow. Upon the duration of this conference will depend the prospects of a meeting between Mr. Clark and the other visitors.

"I do not know whether they will meet or not," Governor Wilson said tonight, when asked if such would be the case. Nor would the Governor announce the reason for their coming.

Mr. Clark, the Governor said, might discuss the legislation now before the House. If Mr. Clark brought the topic up of his own initiative it would be discussed, he said.

Governor Wilson conferred late into the afternoon with Robert S. Hudspeth, William F. McCombs, Josephus Daniels, North Carolina's National committeeman and E. E. Grosscup, Democratic State chairman of New Jersey, upon the message which he will send to the National Committee at Chicago Monday.

When the conference ended Governor Wilson said there had not been time to consider all the points involved in the message and that it might be modified at a further meeting tomorrow. Messrs. McCombs, Hudspeth, Grosscup and Daniels expect to leave tomorrow afternoon for Chicago.

One of the National committeeman who enjoys the Governor's close friendship was of the opinion tonight that the Governor would recommend Mr. McCombs as National chairman and advise against the division of authority in directing the campaign between the National Committee and a campaign committee. Even at this late hour, he said, the Governor had not made a positive choice for treasurer of the committee or for chairman of the finance committee. These were matters, he thought, that would be reserved for a last minute decision tomorrow.

"I cannot tell you gentlemen, what I shall recommend to the National Committee," Governor Wilson said tonight, when asked if he cared to indicate the contents of the forthcoming message. I am making suggestions to the National Committee only through the courtesy of the committee and at its request. To divulge what those suggestions are before they reach the committee would be in violation of the standard which I have set for myself."

The tentative plan to have the party's National headquarters in Chicago may be changed if a suggestion made by Mr. McCombs this afternoon is followed. "I think New York would be

SECTIONALISM IS BARRED BY TEDDY

Roosevelt Declares New Party Will Represent All the Country

HALF A SOUTHERNER, HE SAYS

Protest Result of Speech of Daniel E. Sickles, of New York, Who Called Wilson Rebel Born. Will Appeal to All.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 12.—A protest against any hint of sectionalism in the new Progressive party was made today by Col. Roosevelt, who said that he did not "care a rap" where a man was born or whether his father wore the Blue or the Gray, so long as he was the right type. Col. Roosevelt was told of a speech, made yesterday by Major Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, of New York, at the meeting for the organization of the new party in this State. Gen. Sickles was quoted as saying Woodrow Wilson was "born amid rebel surroundings, and we of the North have never been disposed to put such a man in the White House."

Col. Roosevelt said he could not discuss the speech, but that it was the desire of the founders of the new party to make the movement one which would truly represent all sections of the country.

"The call for the Progressive convention," he continued, "stated that this was to be a Nation-wide, non-sectional movement, free from any of the sectional or other jealousies and bitterness of the past. In my speech at the Orchestra Hall mass meeting in Chicago in which I stated I would accept the Progressive nomination if tendered to me, I also stated that we appealed alike to the men who wore the Blue and to the sons of the men who wore the Gray.

"I am myself by blood half a Georgian. The brothers of my own mother served in the Confederate navy just as the kinsfolk of my father served in the Union army.

"No man has been more prominent in this movement than Judge Ben Lindsey, born in the South, whose father served in Forest's cavalry. We appeal to Northerns and Southerners, Easterners and Westerners alike. All I ask is that the man himself be of the right type and as an American he face in patriotic spirit, from a standpoint of one whom all the citizens of the country are equally dear, the great and vital issues which now concern all the American people alike. And I do not care a rap where he was born. I feel very strongly that we have now reached the point where all of us alike, wherever we dwell, can treat the memory of the great deeds of the men who wore the Blue and the great deeds of the men who wore the Gray and of the high valor and lofty adherence to the right, as each side saw the right, as shown by both sides, as making a common prestige for honor for all our people in which all our people should share. And whether a man's father wore the Blue or the Gray matters not to me if the man himself stands true to the great ideals which it is imperatively necessary that our people should translate into living acts if the plain people of this Republic are really to secure the rights which our form of government was designed to secure for them."

STRINGENT MARRIAGE BILL

Is Introduced In Georgia Senate By A. E. Copeland

Atlanta, Ga., July 12.—A bill, providing for what are declared by its author to be the most stringest marriage regulations ever attempted by process of law, were introduced today in the Senate of the General Assembly by Senator A. E. Copeland, of the 19th district.

The measure would prohibit the marriage of all persons who are habitual users of intoxicating liquors or stimulating drugs. It also would prohibit the marriage of persons afflicted with a transmissable or inheritable disease. Provision is made for the establishment of a commission to investigate all applicants for marriage licenses. This commission would be authorized to provide punishment for any official performing a marriage ceremony for any person prohibited under the provisions of the act.

SHAM BATTLE TODAY

Militiamen at Anniston, Ala., Sleep In Battle Garb

Anniston, Ala., July 12.—All the regiments attending the National maneuvers at Camp Pettus will participate tomorrow in a sham battle at "Ten Mile" Creek, about six miles from Anniston. Tonight the camp site is practically deserted and the troops are sleeping in battle garb near the scene of tomorrow's struggle.

The regiments are divided into two armies. Brigadier General Malony, of Tennessee, is in command of the "Reds," while the "Browns" will be lead by Colonel J. N. Craig, of South Carolina.

Funeral services were conducted today over the bodies of Charles Kirby and Herbert Rape, the militiamen killed by lightning yesterday.

ONE BED FOR TEN.

Hospital Provision for Consumptives Increases Rapidly—Inadequate.

New York, July 13.—Nearly 4,000 additional hospital beds for consumptives in 29 States were provided during the year ending June 1st, according to a statement issued today from the records of the National Association for the study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. This makes a total of over 30,000 beds, but only about one for every ten indigent tuberculosis patients in this country.

In the last five years the hospital provision for consumptives has increased from 14,428 in 1907 to over 30,000 in 1912, or over 100 per cent.; New York State leads in the number of beds, having 8,350 on June 1st; Massachusetts comes next, with 2,800; and Pennsylvania, a close third, with 2,700. Alabama showed the greatest percentage of increase in the last year by adding 57 new beds to its 42 a year ago. Georgia comes next, with 100 beds added to 240 a year ago. New York has the greatest numerical increase, having provided over 1,800 additional beds in the year.

Only four States—Mississippi, Nevada, Utah and Wyoming—have no beds whatever in special hospitals or wards for consumptives. Eight years ago, when the National Association was organized, there were 26 States in which no hospital or sanatorium provision for consumptives existed, and the entire number of beds in the United States was only 10,000.

"While these figures would indicate a remarkable growth in anti-tuberculosis activity," says Dr. Livingston Farrand, executive secretary of the National Association, in commenting on this subject, "there are still practically ten indigent consumptives for every one of the 30,000 beds, including those for pay patients. In other words we have from 250,000 to 300,000 consumptives in this country too poor to provide hospital care for themselves. If tuberculosis is ever going to be stamped out in the United States, more hospital provision for these foci of infection must be provided."

THE HOTTEST PLACE

Mercury Climbs to 104 at Concordia, Kas.—No Relief Promised

Washington, July 12.—The hottest place in the country today was Concordia, Kas., where the mercury climbed to 104. The entire Central West sweltered. The hundred-mark was reached at Wichita, Kas., and the temperature fell only two degrees short of that in Omaha, Fort Worth, Texas, and Fort Smith, Ark.

There was discomfort throughout most of the country except in the Northwest, New England and the Middle Atlantic States, where somewhat cooler weather prevailed. The Weather Bureau officials gave no assurance of relief for Saturday and Sunday. There were local thunder storms today in the Atlantic and East Gulf States, but they did little to temper the heat.

Two factors are necessary to cause tuberculosis—the seed and the soil. The seed is the tubercle bacillus; the soil is the human body when prepared by a lack or loss of normal resisting power.

Take care of the consumptive at the right time, at the right place, and in the right way, until he is well; not at the wrong time, at the wrong place and in the wrong way until he is dead.

CITY LEAGUE ORGANIZED

Schedule of 12 Games Will Be Started This Afternoon

A new baseball league, to be known as the City League, has been organized and a 12-game schedule will be played, the four teams playing two games each Saturday. The games will be played on the Parsley diamond at Hilton and admission to both grounds and grandstand will be free.

The four teams composing the league are as follows: Company B, Boys' Brigade; Athletics, Giants and Wilmington Amateurs. The first game will start at 3 o'clock this afternoon, between Company B and the Athletics, and the second game will be started immediately after the first comes to an end, the Giants opposing the Amateurs. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The line-up of the different teams are as follows:

New York, July 12.—Mock Dock, the most celebrated of Chinese tong leaders in this country, has decided to retire from his activities and will sail for China in a few weeks to spend the rest of his life at ease on an estate near his birthplace. He has been the head of the Hip Sing in New York for 20 years. With him will go Wong Goth, his partner in various commercial and gambling enterprises.

New Orleans, July 12.—Peroxide as used by some of the young and pretty teachers of New Orleans public schools after osculatory greetings of cosmopolitan pupils will not be needed if a petition offered by the anti-tuberculosis league is favored by the school board. Action was taken last night, when the league decided to ask the board for an arbitrary rule making it "illegal" for a teacher to kiss her pupils.

AMERICANS WIN TWO EVENTS

The 110 Metres Race and Broad Jump Go to Uncle Sam's Boys—Great Excitement Follows Disqualification.

Stockholm, July 12.—The American athletes won two more events at the Olympic games today. Frederick W. Kelly, University of South California, took the final heat of the 110 metres hurdle race, while Wendell and Hawkins, also representing the United States, ran second and third, respectively, in this event. Albert L. Gutterson, of the University of Vermont, captured the running broad jump with a new Olympic record of 24 feet 11 inches.

In addition, the United States finished second and third in the discus; fifth in the modern pentahalion, and won places in many heats in other events, the finals of which are yet to be decided.

An incident occurred in the last heat of the semi-finals of the 400 metres race today, which for a time stirred up a small tempest. It was almost a repetition of the clash at the London Olympic, when the American, Carpenter, was disqualified for fouling an Englishman in a similar sprint, and the unpleasantness caused in Anglo-American athletics was a long time in the forgetting.

On this occasion it was a collision between Germany and the United States. An Amherst divinity student, Donald B. Young, running under the colors of the Boston A. A., finished two yards in the lead in this race, but was disqualified and the heat given to his fast Teutonic rival, Braun, who crossed the line second. The circumstances led the spectators to think that the United States might protest but the American committee, while considering the judges' decision in error, accepts it loyally.

The alleged foul occurred on the first turn, 50 yards from the start. The race was for blood, and there was great rivalry between the two Americans, Young and Ira N. Davenport, University of Chicago, and the German, Braun. Young took the lead on the first jump. The German attempted to pass him on the outside at the turn, and was elbowed by Young. The judges made an attempt to stop Young at the next turn, but without success. The incident caused great excitement, the Germans hooting the Americans, and Manager Halpin argued with the judges.

The Amherst man takes the matter much to heart.

"Braun was pushing me back," said Young, in explanation.

"The only thing I could do was what I did, or be pushed into the Swede. If they disqualify me they certainly should disqualify Braun, I would not kick so much if they disqualified both of us."

The victory of the Finn, Taipale, in the discus event, surprised the Americans, for they had depended upon this, but had to be content with second and third. The prowess of the Finns particularly the phenomenal runner, Kohlehmainen was hardly anticipated.

In the running broad jump Gutterson was only a hair's breadth behind the world's record, but second place went to Canada and third to Sweden, shattering some of the American hopes. As the 110 meters hurdle race was a clean sweep the day did not pass without three American flags going up together.

Lieut. Patton's success in scoring fifth in the modern pentathalon against 41 other officers, the best of the European armies, makes the American cavalry lieutenant one of the popular personages of Stockholm. The Swedish officers who had beaten Patton had the advantage of long training on the ground, and the American had to ride a strange horse.

Great Britain and Austria swept the 400 metres swimming, Healy, of Australia, doing the world's record.

Great Britain and Australia also monopolized the prizes for the ladies' 100 metres swim, while Sweden captured the high diving competition.

The American marathon runners have stopped work and will take no further practice for Sunday's struggle.

The total scores as announced are as follows: United States, 100; Sweden, 71; Great Britain, 53; Germany, 26; Finland, 23; France, 19; South Africa, 11; Denmark, 11; Norway, 10; Italy, 0; Canada, 8; Hungary, 8; Australia, 9; Rusia, Greece, Belgium, Austria, 3 each; Holland, 2.

DECIDE ON SPECIAL.

House Democrats Will Have Train of Own to Sea Girt.

Washington, July 12.—A special train will convey House Democrats to Sea Girt, N. J., to attend the notification of Governor Woodrow Wilson that he has been nominated by his party for the Presidency. This was decided by the House Democratic caucus today. Representative Foster, of Illinois; Allen, of Ohio, and Reilly, of Connecticut, were named as a committee to make the arrangements.

Speaker Champ Clark will leave for Sea Girt tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock to visit Governor Wilson.

Ministers Called on to Blot Out by Conference.

Durham, N. C., July 12.—The open saloon was condemned as an incubator of crime and ministers were called upon to help blot out this evil in resolutions adopted at the close tonight of a week's session of the ministers' conference at the National Religious Trainin School. Negro ministers from all parts of the country have been in attenance at the conference and were addressed by many prominent white ministers from the North. Questions of a sociological character were discussed at the conference.

PRESS AND PUBLIC HEALTH.

(State Board Bulletin.)

No greater single agency for the advancement of public health education exists than is found in the press of this State. Nor is there to be found anywhere a class of men more willing to assist in the uplift and upbuilding of their own community and of the State than the editors and managers of these newspapers.

During the last eight or nine months practically every one of the leading daily, weekly and semi-weekly newspapers and other publications of the State have from time to time been carrying more or less public health information in their columns. From the best available information it appears that something like 160 papers have been supporting this campaign for better health, happiness, and efficiency. The total subscription enrollment of these papers approximates 475,000. It would seem that there can scarcely be a home in North Carolina into which such health information has not found its way. If the total amount of health matter used by these papers in the last eight months were joined end to end, it would form a newspaper column approximately 161 miles long.

It is comparatively easy to compute the total amount of such printing done, but who can ever estimate the amount of good this is bringing to the people of the State? The great flood of inquiries for literature, bulletins and further information received at this office serves as a testimony or index to the eagerness with which the public reads such items. This is particularly noticeable when the papers advise their readers that certain health literature, bulletins and pamphlets can be obtained at this office.

If the newspapers and othed publications of the State continue in the future as they have in the past, the public will soon know the cause and will apply the remedy to many of the diseases and ailments affecting the life, health and efficiency of individuals and communities, which heretofore were supposed to be the dspensations of a beneficent Providence. Furthermore, it will be only a question of time until the public will demand the enactment and enforcement of such laws, State and local, that will look to the better safeguarding of the State's greatest wealth—the health of her citizens. W. H. B.

Wake Forest Express Agent Not Guilty—Six New Corporations Chartered—Other News Notes of State Interest.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 12.—Judge Ferguson, in the Superior Court, threw out of court the case against J. L. Allen, the express agent at Wake Forest, charging him with being guilty of selling whiskey because he wrote orders for whiskey to out of the State dealers and received his regular 10 per cent. on the amount of the orders just as he does on all express business handled, this being his compensation for service with the express company.

The indictment was brought by W. N. Jones, as a trustee of Wake Forest College, who had threatened to prosecute Allen if he did not quit writing orders for whiskey, which it was charged was being sold by blind tigers to college students. In dismissing the case Judge Ferguson told Allen that he had possibly been a trifle too accommodating but that he was not guilty of any violation of the North Carolina prohibition law.

Friends are much gratified that Douglas D. Ellington, of Johnston county, a son of the late Sheriff Ellington, of Johnston, has won the $2,500 prize by the Society of Beaux Arts, Paris, that gives him special training in Paris and other foreign centers of art in architecture, this being the first time that an architect outside of New York City has won this prize. The contests are open to all architects of the country under 27 years old.

The members of the Wake Forest Medical Society enjoyed their annual barbecue last afternoon out at the State fair grounds, there having been also a number of addresses and papers on subjects of special interest to the profession.

Six new corporations were chartered today. The West End Development Co., of Winston-Salem, is chartered with $500,000 capital authorized and $1,000 subscribed by P. H. Hanes, P. H. Hanes, Jr., and W. M. Hanes for the development of the P. H. Hanes farm property, just west of Winston, as city lots. The Morven Hardware Co., of Morven, is chartered with $25,000 capital by T. V. Hardison and others. The Hamilton Millinery, Co., of Charlotte, is chartered with $100,000 capital by W. H. Belk, B. F. Matthews and others. The Chautauqua Drug Co., of Waynesville, is chartered with $25,000 capital authorized and $4,000 subscribed by Jas. Atkins, Jr., and others. The Bijou Co., of Greensboro, is chartered with $15,000 capital authorized and $8,000 subscribed by C. C. Collins and others for operating moving picture and other places of amusement.

ELON COLLEGE NOTES

Physical Exercise Department Well Taken Care Of—Other Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Elon College, N. C., July 12.—President Harper announces very satisfactory arrangements for next year relative to the physical exercise of the student body. Miss Clements remains in her post as director of physical culture for young women, a position she has filled with eminent satisfaction for the last two years. As previously announced the gymnasium in West Dormitory is to be fitted up with the latest gymnasium appliances for young ladies. The contract for necessary structural changes looking to this end was let last week to Standard Boiler Machine Company of Greensboro, N. C., and the installation begins today.

Coach R. S. Doak will have charge of the general athletic life for the young men of the college, a department in which he last year served with exemplary success, putting out the first all-amateur, bona-fide student baseball team in Elon's history. There was not a single man on the team who had even played Summer ball and yet these amateur men during their first year's advent into college athletics won more games against the strong teams they opposed than they lost. It is gratifying that Coach Doak is to return to his post of responsibility. Mr. A. L. Hook, Winchester, Va., is manager of the baseball team for next year, and R. S. Thompson, Aurora, N. C., is captain. G. G. Holland, Holland, Va., is tennis manager. R. M. Homewood, of Southern Alamance, has charge of track sports; C. C. Johnson, Jr., Siler City, N. C., is manager of the basketball quint. These men may be depended upon to represent their various departments with signal ability and due regard to the high standard of sportsmanship prevailing here.

The college is also fortunate in the selection of its physical director for the new men's gymnasium, this Summer to be erected. The director is Mr. R. N. Miller, Richmond, Va., who for four years has successfully filled a similar position in the railroad Y. M. C. A. of that city and who is now engaged in further studies for his new responsibilities in the Y. M. C. A. Physical Training School of New York city. He enters upon his duties here September 1st.

DORMITORY FOR GIRLS

Methodist Orphanage Trustees Decide To Build Fine Structure

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 12.—The board of trustees of the North Carolina Methodist Orphanage at its annual meeting this afternoon determined to proceed at once with the erection of a new dormitory for girls to cost $10,000. the money being donated by Mrs. Jackson, of Kinston. The board elected R. R. Covington, of Laurinburg, a trustee, to succeed C. W. Munger, of Newbern, deceased. All officers of the institution were re-elected including R. N. Page, president, and Joseph G. Brown, secretary-treasurer of the board of trustees. and Rev. J. N. Cole, superintendent. There are 140 children cared for and a long waiting list, that the new dormitory will help to take care of.

Atlanta, Ga., July 11.—More than 100 entries have been received for the second annual invitation golf tournament which will open on the links of the Atlanta Athletic Club Thursday, July 18th. Four handsome cups will be given to the winners of the four feature flights.

SOUTHERN COMMERCE

Central and South American Republics To Have Exhibits

Washington, July 13.—Central and South American Republics are taking steps to install government exhibits in the permanent exposition of the Southern Commercial Congress in the Southern Building, in this city. This was announced today by Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, president, and Dr. C. J. Owens, managing director, of the Congress. The Congress has provided for the State exhibits in the exposition from the 16 Southern States and some of these displays have been installed.

The plan of the Congress to obtain exhibits from the Pan-American Republics originated with the officials of the Congress. They brought the project to the attention of the State Department and the Pan-American Union. Secretary of State Knox and Director General Barrett, of the Pan-American Union, gave their cordial support to the plan, and are now working with the Congress to get the exhibits as soon as possible. Secretary Knox has addressed a letter to diplomatic representatives of the United States in these countries, asking them to co-operate with officials of the Pan-American Republics in all matters concerning the exhibits. In a letter to Senator Fletcher, Mr. Barrett says:

"I am in sympathy with the purposes and plans of the Southern Commercial Congress, especially in reference to the exhibit which it desires to hold in its building in Washington."

Amabsadors and ministers of the Pan-American countries resident in Washington have taken the exhibit matter up with their respective governments.

It is planned to have all these exhibits installed in the permanent exposition hall before the fifth annual convention of the Congress, which will be held in Mobile, Ala., coincident with the opening of the Panama canal in the Fall of 1913. Many of the diplomatic representatives of the Pan-American Republics in Washington will be on the programme of the Mobile Convention.

Participation of the Pan-American Republics in the permanent exposition and the Mobile Convention will have two important international results, said officials of the Congress today. It will bring these countries into direct touch with the work the Southern Commercial Congress is doing to increase the export and import trade between the republics and the United States, in which the Panama canal will be a great factor, and it will afford the thousands of visitors to Washington, many of them from foreign countries, an opportunity to see something of the resources and products of the Pan-American countries, as shown by their exhibits in the exposition.

PELLAGRA

Disease on the Increase—Serious Situation Demands Attention

Raleigh, N. C., July 6.—From one-sixth of the population of North Carolina the law requires that all deaths with their causes and certain other data relating to sex, age, social conditions, etc., be registered in the office of Registrar of Vital Statistics at Raleigh. From this population there were reported 115 deaths from pellagra in 1910 and 176 deaths from the same disease in 1911. an increase of 62 per cent. Estimating the total deaths from this disease in the State as six times the number occurring in the registration area of the State, there were 680 deaths from pellagra in 1910, and 1,040 deaths from the same disease in 1911. The death rate from pellagra in North Carolina is 47 per hundred thousand, just exactly twice the death rate from typhoid fever in the registration area of the United States, which comprises 54,000,000 of our national population.

A most important feature of this new disease for the public to note is that in the present state of our knowledge pellagra constitutes a national rather than a State problem. This is so far the reason that preventive measures against the disease being of equal value to the fifteen or twenty States in which the disease exists, it would be not only burdensome but manifestly economically unfair for any one State to assume the task of an investigation and a discovery in which all the States suffering from pellagra are equally concerned. Problems that are common to the States, such as this disease problem, have national characteristics which the inter-State, or national government should recognize and deal with. It is well that this danger be recognized, and that our national government recognize its duty in this matter at once, in order that the disease may not gain such a firm foothold in the United States as it has in certain foreign countries that are now being taxed on account of the poverty and dependency incident to the disease to the extent of pounds of cure when once an ounce of prevention would have avoided their present affliction.

Once the means of preventing the spread of the disease is discovered, each State can protect its own citizens by seeing that the methods of prevention are enacted into and enforced under law. The disease, therefore, after it becomes a preventable disease, will cease to be a national problem and become a State problem.

The State Board of Health, having recognized this national aspect of the disease and its tendency to rapid increase, has felt that it was its duty to call the attention of our Representatives in the Congress and Senate of the United States to these facts, and to recommend that a sufficient appropriation be made and entrusted to a commission of experts for the study of the disease with the view of discovering appropriate means for preventing its increase.

The North Carolina Medical Society, at its recent meeting at Hendersonville, passed resolutions citing the same facts as above set forth, and respectfully requesting our representatives in the national government to use their influence in accordance with the suggestion of the State Board of Health.

YOUNGSTERS ARE IN CAMP

Lads of Company C, Boys' Brigade, Having Fine Time on Annual Outing at Southport—Ball Game Today.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Camp Wilson, N. C., July 12.—Once more the Boys' Brigade is encamped in the old historic and popular Summer city at the mouth of the Cape Fear, Southport, where so many encampments have been conducted during the past years of the existence of the Boys' Brigade. It is the same delightfully refreshing place it has always proven with its splendid cooling breezes, good bathing, excellent fishing and delightful people.

The advance guard, in charge of Mr. Chas. Dusban, consisting of a corps of cooks and other helpers, went down on Wednesday morning and arranged the kitchen, mess tent and other parts of the camp to be ready for the coming of the first detachment of the Brigade, Company C, when they reached the grounds. This company, under Capt. Alonzo J. Buriss, arrived on the steamer Wilmington Thursday morning at 11:30 and immediately repaired to the camp grounds on the garrison where they were soon treated to their first meal by the genial chef, "Jobey", whose menus cannot be beaten and the boys proclaimed it a splendid feast. About 25 of the boys of Company C are in camp, a few of them not being able to attend because of other affairs which interfered. Those who are here are determined to have a good time, however, as evidenced by their successful efforts of securing introductions to the young ladies, their visit to the moving picture show, the presence of watermelons and other signs of feasting and good fellowship. The detail preparations of erecting tents and arranging sleeping quarters, preparing the grounds and other features of a well regulated encampment are about completed.

A baseball game is on for today between the boys of Southport and Company C. It is hoped that it will not strain the relations between the boys beyond the already high tension brought about chiefly by the interference of these boys, who are strangers and who have so soon made themselves so agreeable to their lady friends. Up to the present Harry Fergus seems to be the champion and prime favorite among these same young ladies for he was surrounded by about 20 last evening. However, the others will soon learn how and then Harry will be obliged to hustle to keep the lead he now has. Then, there are Lieuts. Frand Dickerson and Marvin Register, who have the insignia of office in the nature of a uniform which is more attractive from the standpoint of the beautiful and this is calculated to catch the eye of the feminine population. The regular order of exercises will be instituted today after which everything will be conducted according to schedule.

Reville, 6:30; drill 6:45 to 7:15; breakfast, 7:30; religious exercises 8 to 8:15; dinner 1, and supper at 6:30. Interspersed between will be games, swimming, fishing, baseball and other sports and duties so that every moment will be occupied and the boys kept happy.

For today the order from headquarters is: Officer of the day, Lieut. Dickerson; sergeant of guard, Fergus; privates, McCartney, Sanders and James.

Shanghai, China, July 11.—Horrible atrocities marked the recent capture of the city of Litang in the provence of Szo Chuen by Tibetans. Many women and children were burned alive or otherwise slaughtered. The garrison defended the city for an hour and then fled, leaving 70 dead lying in the streets.

Cecil Lyon is asking progressive Texas Democrats to join his new party movement. Cecil is pursuing the snow-bound trail. No Democrat with the aroma of postoffice in his nostrils has any time to waste on new Republican party movements.—Houston Post.

AFTER LONG SUFFERING

These Two Women's Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Read Their Own Statements.

Cheneyville, La. — "Some time ago when in poor health, suffering from feminine ills, I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. I soon felt better and gained in strength and flesh. A gradual improvement continued as I took the Compound, and from 120 pounds I now weigh 155, and feel that my life has been prolonged.

"I deeply regret that I did not know of your medicine long before I did. Friends often speak of the wonderful change in my health, and I tell them that your medicine did it."—Mrs. J. W. STANLEY, Cheneyville, La.

Distressing Case of Mrs. M. Gary.

Chicago, Ill.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for backache and it has certainly made a new woman of me. After my first baby was born I was left a perfect wreck. I was so weak I could hardly do my household duties and suffered with an awful backache. But since I have used your Compound the pains in my back have left me and I am strong again.

"My mother used it also through Change of Life and speaks very highly of it. You can use this letter any way you wish. I think it is only fair for one who has suffered as much as I, to let others know of your great remedy."—Mrs. M. GARY, 2958 N. Ridgeway Ave., Chicago, Ill.

THE MORNING STAR

Published by the WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC., Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Saturday, July 13, 1912.

If Senator Lorimer should escape this time he should never do it again.

The English papers have all decided to support Woodrow Wilson for President.

It is about time for the muckrakers to take a few notes and get a fresh start.

Hurrah for Wilson—more than ever. He is saying things that strongly vindicate his nomination at Baltimore.

The good streak in Dr. Wiley grows bigger. He is on the Wilson bandwagon. When good men realize their duty they know where to land.

The steam roller even made a dash into the National Educational institution. "Knowledge is power," but ain't the steam roller powerful?

The innocent straw vote has been resumed. It is claimed that in Connecticut the straw is blowing towards the stack of the Third Termer. Pity about those Nutmegs.

Colonel Roosevelt boasted that he "took" Panama because it was needed. Taft took the nomination because it was wanted and needed. One is as justifiable as the other.

Harry Thaw may not be able to get out of the asylum, but probably it is best for him. If he should regain his liberty he might give himself away by joining the Bull Moose party.

The Third Termer says he proposes to canvass every State in the Union. In order to make President Taft run out of money, the Colonel should induce him to go with him and have a joint debate.

A man who doesn't want to be a Republican if he has to vote for Taft, or can't vote for Roosevelt because he is a third termer and a third partyite, can easily reconcile all his worries by getting right up on the Wilson bandwagon.

Says the Charleston News and Courier: "There is a man in this town who has eaten waffles for breakfast every day for thirty-eight years, and when he started the doctors had given him up." No doubt he is now tough enough to be a new white hope.

If Southern Republicans have to give up either the Elephant or the Bull Moose, it will not be the animal which has "stood for" and "put up" with them all these years. Anyhow, they are under the impression that the Bull Moose will sooner or later be turned out to grass.

National Republican Chairman C. D. Hilles, in taking charge of the Republican party, speaks about the 'solemnity of its cause." Sure, Mike! That is undertakeresque language. It's the proper stuph to emit in taking charge of the hearse. It is appropriately lugubrious.

If Big Business were to ask every man, woman and child in the country to make them a contribution so they could pay dividends on their enormous capital stock and still more enormous watered stock, they would get a flat refusal. However, the interests don't have to ask us for a hand out. The Republican tariff gives them the privilege of just taking it under guise of law, which we are told is National benevolence towards American industries. Captains of industry ought to be ashamed of depending on public aid but they are not. They ask for it, fight for it, and spend their money to elect Republicans who will see that they get it. Are you stupid enough to vote for a taxing system which levies tribute on you so the privilege crowd can "cut melons" at your expense? If so, why so?

THE MONSTER ISSUE.

The masses ought to be for tariff revision, and doubtless are, because it will relieve them of a burdensome indirect tax imposed upon them for the benefit of the protected interests. Tariff revision was badly needed five years ago, and popular insistence upon it caused the Democrats to insert in their 1908 platform a pledge for immediate revision downward.

The Republican party, practicing its usual hypocrisy and deceit, also promised tariff revision so as to guarantee a profit to the industries of the country. There was the merest pretense that the high protection schedules would be lowered, but the people were under the impression that revision meant downward. They had no idea that the Republicans would interpret revision so as to make it upward or downward, and would insist, in doing so, that they were carrying out their pledge for tariff revision.

The Republican plank in 1908 was vague and deceptive, but it was so framed as to be made satisfactory to standpatters and not to the people. The most arrant humbuggery, of which a party was ever guilty, was practiced upon a burdened people. The Republican promise, then as now, was to revise the tariff on a basis covering the difference between the cost of labor and manufacturing abroad, and the difference in the standard of living here and abroad. An easily gullible people were convinced that the indefinite promise of the Republicans was better than the positive pledge of the Democratic party, and so they elected Taft President and chose a Congress of his political faith.

What that standpat President and Congress did for revision of the tariff was a plenty. The Payne-Aldrich-Smoot tariff revised the tariff slightly downward, and largely upward. The revision downward was overbalenced by the revision upward, so that in the aggregate the tariff is the highest and most oppressive in the history of Republican legislation. The people felt that an outrage had been committed upon them in behalf of the Republican favorites of privilege, but they had voted, with their eyes open, for a political aggregation which is committed to the wrongful policy of using the government's taxing power to ring tribute from the people for favored interests. In the concrete, the Republican false doctrine of protection means government aid for special classes, and that aid is so provided that it can be wrung out of the masses by the most monstrous method ever devised to cover up a system of free booting as unjust and unreasonable as if the Legislature of North Carolina were to arrange its taxing laws so certain special interests could take advantage of it to exploit all the people for their benefit.

Nevertheless, that is precisely the object of Republican tariff laws. They are not passed specially to provide revenue for the government, but are purposely and designedly passed to provide revenue for the government and for trusts and tariff beneficiaries of all descriptions. Certain schedules are so arranged that the government con secure a revenue on certain imported manufactures and products, while in other schedules the tariff tax is made so high that imports are prohibited under them. As there is little or no importation under prohibitive tariff schedules, the government gets no revenue out of them. However, these prohibitive rates shut out foreign competition and deliver the people into the hands of the freebooters to be exploited at their will by excessive prices for American made goods. We simply pay taxes to the special interests in the prices they are enabled to exact by reason of their tariff privileges, and a close estimate shows that for every dollar in revenue paid to the government the people pay $100 to the tariff beneficiaries.

The truth in a nutshell is that the people are forced by Republican law to pay one hundred times more tribute to special interests than they do to maintaining their government. The masses are so placed to the advantage of the cormorant trusts, conscienceless combines and freebooting corporations that they have wrung from them an indirect tax that pays dividends on billions of legitimate capital and other billions of watered stocks. Tsat is simply what the protective tariff means, and the most astonishing part of it is that there are enough voters outside the lunatic asylum to vote such a party into power. However, the voters in the election two years ago showed that they resented the deception of the Republican party in not providing revision of the tariff, and it is evident that they are beginning to see into the iniquitous tariff policy of the privilege party. Leastwise, the overwhelming election of a Democratic House and the repudiation of Aldrichism and Cannonism indicates it. Formidable insurgency in Republican ranks also shows that the masses have risen with stiff necks to put a stop to an infamy more excessively tyrannous and serious than the British stamp acts during the Colonial period of this country.

This question is made the leading issue in this campaign. The Democratic party has made it the issue by the platform adopted at the Baltimore convention. That platform is based on sound ground and is supported by the constitution of the Republic itself. Dr. Woodrow Wilson, the able, scholarly and distinguished Presidential nominee of the party, declares that it is the vital issue and will be stressed over all other questions. The other issues are trivial alongside the great question of tariff imposition, and it is needless to say that the Baltimore platform rightly characterizes the tariff when it charges that it has built up and sustains the huge trusts, that its iniquitous operations have concentrated wealth into the hands of the few, and that it is responsible for the unequal distribution of wealth.

That is what the platform says, and it can be proven. It also makes every one of us work for the few who are getting vastly rich by a Republican system which endows them with the monstrous privilege of compelling us to come across with the price.

CAROLINA LAND INVESTMENTS.

Mr. D. L. Gore, of Wilmington, has just closed a $216,000 land deal which emphasizes the Star's oft proclaimed declaration that an investment in North Carolina land was as safe as the most gilt edged bond in America. With lands selling at low prices an investor could not possibly have taken chances, for there was so much to gain in the assured increased value that it did not require a prophet to foresee it. There was absolutely nothing to lose in land investments a few years ago, and as marvelously as have been the increase in values within the last few years, the advance will continue on a scale equally astonishing. We do not hesitate to predict that what we consider as high priced land today will be considered dirt cheap in the next five years. Therefore, we consider present land values a bargain, and time will prove that we are right.

While Mr. Gore, in the land deal which he closed at Rockingham a few days ago, made a clear profit of $7 per acre, netting about 188,400 over the purchase price, the parties who bought his lands have picked up a bargain. No doubt they are as fully aware of that as we are. The particulars about Mr. Gore's land deal were sent out from Rockingham under date of Thursday, and from the account it is learned that Mr. Gore sold to Mr. Ralph Page, of New York, 27,600 acres of the now famed pine lands peculiar to the "piney ridge" country of eastern North Carolina. The consideration was $216,000, the price per acre being about $8.

Much is made of the fact that less than ten years ago Mr. Gore bought that immense tract of land for considerably less than $1 per acre. These lands lie in one body in the counties of Richmond, Scotland, Hoke and Moore, and a few years ago they were considered as practically valueless. That was a great mistake, of course, just as it is a mistake to presume that these lands have now sold at a high price. They are cheap at $8 an acre, and time will prove that Mr. Page and his associates have picked a big bargain.

The price of a dollar per acre no more represented what those lands were worth when they were purchased by Mr. Gore than $8 per acre represents their value now. Conditions then were not what they are now. Opportunities were small and there was little or no demand for lands. The conditions and opportunities ten years hence will be different from what they are today. They will be about ten times better, and the people who will own those lands then will laugh at the idea that they should be considered worth only $1 to $8 per acre.

The fact that the sandhill lands sold at less than $1 per acre ten years ago is a reflection on the intelligence and foresight of our people. They have demonstrated that themselves, for they have since adopted modern and intelligent metnods of farming and have proven that the sandhill lands are splendidly adapted to farming. Under a process of soil restoration during a period of from one to four years, they develop into lands of great productivity under proper cultivation and scientific fertilization. Lands considered barren wastes have proved to be not only ideally adapted to the growing of peaches, grapes, dewberries, cantaloupes and other fruits and melons, but they have been made to produce a bale and a half of cotton per acre, from 40 to 60 bushels of corn per acre, and other crops in proportion to the intelligence, method and energy devoted to them.

The Rockingham correspondent who tells us about Mr. Gore's land deal vouches for that, for he states that "there are such lands on the good roads highway between Rockingham and Hamlet that have been performing this feat for several years, that couldn't be bought for $100 per acre." We have heard before of the wonderful achievements with these heretofore considered valueless lands, and the lamented editor H. C. Dockery was fond of telling about them when he was living and was such a power for good in his section of the country. Please, gently place a coupling pin at the point where "good roads highway" is mentioned, for that is a large contributing cause to the increased value of those or any other lands. We will venture the assertion that the sandhill lands on that Rockingham-Hamlet highway are worth ten times more thon those lands which have no outlet by improved roads. It furnishes a big argument for good roads, and intelligent North Carolinians should not overlook it.

It is said Mr. Page, who is a son of the well known publicist, Dr. Walter H. Page, of New York, represents New York capitalists in the land purchase which he has made. Doubtless the lands will be cut up into small farms and be colonized or be disposed of in a general way. Probably the purchasers will see the opportunity of devoting a portion of them to a great fruit growing and agricultural enterprise. No doubt they will produce a fine grade of yellow tobacco, and there is no telling what their possible values are. Intelligence alone can demonstrate.

DANGER OF OUR STREETS.

The communication elsewhere on this page, signed "Motorist," is both timely and important. The rapid improvement of our streets, especially in the downtown sections, has brought with it a new responsibility and one which, we regret to observe, is not sufficiently impressed, apparently, on the public mind. "Motorist", in his exceedingly well written article, himself an experienced and conservative driver, points out the absolute necessity of the better observance of the traffic regulations of the city as well as of those of the State. There can be no doubt that unless something is done and done speedily, the inevitable tragedy will be upon the community to awake the people to a sense of this new responsibility so well pointed out by "Motorist."

We are told that the political boss has been put out of business—!! ??? Possibly so. Probably he has been succeeded by the engineer of the steam roller, a political juggernaut which seems to be running amuck, flattening out hats-in-the-ring, crushing the howl out of the houn' dawg, smashing Big Teeth, squelching Big Noise, and busting the ropes through which the coyotes were to be knocked with the Big Stick. By the way, the measly Big Stick doesn't even jar the steam roller. Selah, and, moreover, Ha! Ha! Ha!

CURRENT COMMENT.

You haven't seen any politically strange bedfellows until you take a look at the realignment now taking place in this State.—Greensboro News.

The suggestion that the United States government should sell to the public generally army shoes furnished to soldiers, and at the same prices the enlisted men pay, is the latest evidence of the trend to patrenalism in this country. It is not believable that Congress would consent to any such scheme or that the War Department would seriously advocate it; yet that it should have been advanced at all is sufficiently startling. Purchased under contract, in enormous quantities, shoes can be furnished to the army at prices much below those which citizens must pay, and there can be no objection to this. But to extend the privilege to the public at large would place the government in the position of competing with its own people. What would be the difference between a trust created in this way and one built up by other methods? And if Uncle Sam should go into the shoes business, what logical reason would there be against his invasion of the clothing business, the grocery business, and every other kind of business?—Washington Post.

Governor Wilson should by no means be considered as being especially Southern, and too much reference to it in the South might lead to the impression in the North that the South was going to try to make his administration sectional. As a matter of fact, Wilson is not the first man of Southern origin who has occupied the Presidential chair since the abolition of slavery. Lincoln himself was of Southern origin, so of course, was Johnson, so also Harrison. Roosevelt was half Southern. The situation presented by a man of Southern origin being in the White House is, therefore, in no wise exceptional or new. From George Washington down, with possibly the exception of Andrew Johnson, men of the South, or of Southern origin, have filled the Presidential chair with impartiality and satisfaction to the whole people. There is no reason to expect that Wilson will not do as well, and no reason to raise a contention now that is past. We have ample experience of what a man of Southern origin would do in the White House, even since the abolition of slavery.—Charlotte Observer.

Most of the articles appearing in periodicals and newspapers since the adjournment of the Baltimore convention and descriptive of Mr. Bryan's part incline to assume that the course of the Nebraskan in that convention was drawn by him in advance; that he had a programme and carried it out. That is quite a mistake. It is not detracting from Mr. Bryan's ability and generalship to say that in only one move he made—that of standing for temporary chairman—the steps he took were developments, and determined upon but a few hours in advance. He decided early Monday to be a candidate on Tuesday to oppose Parker if none other would take the part. On Monday evening, after his rooms had been swarming with callers all day, and he had held innumerable conferences, Mr. Bryan lightly commented to a friend: "How is this for a fellow who purposed having a quiet and inconspicuous part in this convention? I did not intend going into the convention hall," he added, "until after the nomination when I expected to make a speech for the nominee." At 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening after his defeat by Judge Parker, Mr. Bryan had no plans for the remainder of the week. He did not then expect to enter the convention hall again, proposed to play "a very inconspicuous part," and to let those in charge be responsible. But there were developments and Mr. Bryan's second thoughts carried him forward to active participation in the proceedings. There is no doubt he felt keenly his defeat on the opening day, and the subsequent victories gave him not only great satisfaction politically but were peculiarly gratifying to him personally. The final declaration against Clark was not determined upon until after the preceding session and, as reported, after a family conference in which Mrs. Bryan, who took a highly intelligent interest in every feature of the fight, and the Commoner's brother, C. W. Bryan, participated. The latter had long advocated Wilson. Mr. Bryan could not have had a programme arranged in advance; he could not have anticipated the bad plays of his opponents that opened the way for his several moves. — Columbia State.

DANGER OF OUR STREETS.

Their Improvement Brings New Danger—Laws of Traffic.

Wilmington, N. C., July 12, 1912.

Editor Morning Star, Wilmington, N.C.

Dear Sir:—There is, I think, an opportunity for you to do the community a service of value, which I shall venture to call to your attention. The completion of much of our street work, and the new pavements that are afforded us, have brought with them a change of condition. They have brought us much in the way of comfort and, I think, much of danger. The comfort speaks for itself. I believe a word or two from you will minimize the danger.

We have now several hundred automobiles in daily use on our streets. In the past they have, of necessity, been driven at a rate that was safe, with few exceptions, because our old streets were not of a character that led to speeding. For similar reasons, the "Rules of the Road" prescribed for our guidance have not been strictly observed or enforced, because, in many instances, one could not "keep to the right" when the left afforded the only reasonable good driveway. With the coming of our broad, level and delightfully smooth roadways has come a temptation that has, I think, overcome many of our motorists. In the past few weeks, since Third street was completed, I have become accustomed to seeing machines glide by at a rate that is prohibited by State law in the country districts. Some have passed me running between 30 and 40 miles an hour. In order to avail themselves of this opportunity, and to clear the road from interfering pedestrians, the horn is kept busy—and thus we have two violations of the law, as I shall point out. This is all wrong, and should be stopped, not only for the protection of the citizen afoot, but for the preservation of the pleasure that is found in motoring.

I think no one will deny the statement that the life of one child is of more value than all the pleasures that will ever be obtained from fast driving anywhere. If the practice is not abated, inevitably some little one will be the sacrifice that serves to call attention of the community to the abuse that is growing up in our midst. Neither the anguish of family, the self reproach of the unfortunate driver, nor any administration of justice by law, will bring back the life, nor heal the cripple. The only way to right such a wrong is to prevent it, and the best way to prevent it is to curb the practice before it takes too much hold on our people.

In this, I believe, you can be of service. The men who drive our cars number in their list our best people. They are neither criminal nor wanton. Some of them are thoughtless, and some do not realize that they are violating the law, and threatening the happiness of the community. I believe a word of warning, properly given, will be all that is necessary. Certainly, it will reach the fair-minded man, and do much to end the growing tendency. For those who will not, or do not need it, we have the law. The strength of any law is measured by the public sentiment that supports it, and it is in your power to rally the sentiment of our public to the support of this law. If you will do that, you can enforce this law without the use of a single officer.

Our City Council has given us a most rational and liberal set of regulations, and the city government deserves the support of every citizen in carrying them out. The rules of the road, embodied in the "Driving Ordinance", adopted March 7th, 1910, are simple, effective, and easily kept in mind. That they may be known to all, the city has printed, and, I believe, furnishes copies to all who apply for them. Their observance is essential if our streets are to be safe. My personal observation is that not one vehicle in ten is driven in accordance with the rules—and obviously a rule of road is of no value unless all observe it. It is equally obvious that no benefit will be derived if the rule is observed by automobiles, but utterly disregarded by horse-drawn vehicles. We want to prevent accidents, and the fact that the automobile may be in its right place will not altogether satisfy the damage done if the wagon, being wrong, is struck. If all drivers are required to learn the rules, and obey them, we will avoid accidents. Otherwise we will not.

In connection with the speed abuse, I think many of our people will agree that the loud signal is much abused. Section 6 of the Motor Vehicle Ordinance, adopted June 1st, 1912, makes it unlawful for any chauffeur or operator to "make, or permit to be made, any unnecessary, loud or unreasonable noise in giving signals, such as is calculated to disturb the peace, comfort, and quiet of citizens, or to frighten animals using the streets."

This is a salutary provision, and is much less drastic than the law in other cities. For instance, in most of the larger cities with which I am familiar, the use of any horn, other than the usual "Bulb Horn" (familiarly known as the "honk-honk"), is prohibited by law within the city limits. We are more liberal—and yet, some of our machines are equipped with a power, or exhaust horn which emits a shriek that would make a local freight train engine, "hollering for a cross roads", green with envy. These shrieks are not limited to the daylight hours. The sound seems pleasant to some of our drivers, and we get it day and night.

I believe, sir, that a word from you will serve to curb these abuses. I think no one in our midst more thoroughly appreciates the sport of motoring, or its present and future commercial value, than I do. Nevertheless, I do not think our streets were ingrounds as race courses for speed trials, nor yet as practicing grounds for the giving of railroad whistle signals. The Driving Ordinance is short. Much good would be done if attention is called to its provisions, so that none might plead ignorance of its terms. If you think proper, a copy might be published in small compass, so that literally "he who runs may read." If you do create a sentiment that will break up the practices mentioned, I think we will all owe you a debt of gratitude. MOTORIST.

HON. GEORGE DAVIS

Wilmington, N. C., July 10th.

Editor Star:—Being a member of George Davis Camp, Sons of Veterans, at a meeting of the camp about a month subsequent to the death of the Hon. George Davis, I read the following lines in eulogy of him, which by a motion of some one present, were recorded upon the minutes:

After "life's fitful fever," Knightliest pariot, sleep!
Fresh garlands o'er thy new-made mound,
Fashioned from day to day by loving hands, attest
In eloquence mute, thy bed is hallowed ground.

'Tis sweet to lay upon the cherished grave
Nature's blooms in honor of her godlike child;
For nature to him rarest treasures gave,
And Art upon him all her graces piled.

Sleep! peerless, spotless hero, sleep!
Fame's laurel wreath upon thy brow we twine;
And George Davis Camp, S. of V., shall keep
It green, and every virtue that was thine.

A few months ago as I was rummaging over some of my little day dreams, done by way of pleasure in the leisure hours of the quiet night season, I stumbled upon the above manuscript. It is precisely as originally written, save, possibly, the latter clause of the last line, which shows some erasures and underlining.

Inasmuch as George Davis Camp, Sons of Veterans, which should live and flourish for all time in memory of its illustrious patronymic, has been taking a rather prolonged siesta, or has entered into a state of "inocuous desuetude," I thought, perchance, a gentle reminder might add some fresh vitality to the virtuous energies which should inspire their hearts. A lucid, animated biography, with no prosaic chapters, and not too long, of Mr. Davis, Wilmington's greatest and most renowned citizen, would be a helpful, captivating book and add mightily to the literature of North Carolina, who is foremost in splendor of deeds and hindmost in perpetuating them.

RED CROSS SOCIETY MEETING

Five Members of Board of Directors Of Wilmington Red Cross Sanitarium Were Elected Yesterday Morning

Following the transsaction of routine business matters at a called meeting of the Wilmington Red Cross Society, held in the parlors of the Colonial Hotel yesterday morning, the organization meeting of the Wilmington Red Cross Sanitarium was held, at which time five of the nine directors to manage the affairs of the institution were appointed. The other four will be appointed by the City Council and the County Commissioners, each body appointing two.

Mrs. Cuthbert Martin, president of the Wilmington Chapter of the Red Cross, presided and Mrs. S. Mendelshon, the secretary, kept a record of the proceedings. The routine business of the chapter was transacted, the reports of the treasurer and other officers received and other matters considered. The gathering then resolved itself into a meeting of the members of the Wilmington Red Cross Sanitarium, for which a charter was received from the State a few days ago, the purpose of the organization being to erect and maintain a tuberculosis sanitarium in this city.

The five directors appointed by the Red Cross organization were as follows: Rev. Thos. P. Noe, to serve one year; Dr. R. B. Slocum for two years, and Messrs. D. L. Gore, W. H. Sprunt and J. M. Solky for three years each. The remaining four directors will be appointed by the City Council and the County Commissioners, each appointing two. Those from the county will serve one year and from the city two years. All succeeding appointments will be for three years. It was reported that the chapter had on hand about $3,600 for the sanitarium, and the city and county will each contribute to the support of the institution. The building committee reported that the deed had been received from Mrs. W. L. Parsley for the tract of land which she so kindly donated for the institution. It is located in the block bounded by Fourth, Fifth, Wright and Meares streets.

Mr. Jas. F. Gause, Jr., a well-known young architect who has his office in the Odd Fellows' building, drew the plans for the tuberculosis sanitarium gratis. Mr. Jos. F. Leitner also submitted a set of plans gratis. Both architects were returned a vote of thanks at the meeting yesterday. The plans drawn by Mr. Gause are declared to be especially adaptable to the purpose for which the building will be used. They are now in the hands of the National officers of the Red Cross Society in New York for final approval, and as soon as they are returned work upon the building will be begun.

In size the tuberculosis sanitarium will be about 27 feet wide and 190 feet long. The offices will be two stories in height and the remainder of the building, consisting of wings on each side of the offices, will be of one story. There will be separate wings for the white and colored races and each wing will be divided into wards for the treatment of male and female patients.

Votes of thanks were returned yesterday to Geo. Rountree, Esq., for legal services in preparing the deed, drawing up charter, etc., and to Jos. W. Little, Esq., for notary public services.

Dr. R. B. Slocum has kindly donated his services and he will manage the business affairs of the institution, while Dr. Jno. C. Wessell will be in charge of the medical features for the first year. Both physicians volunteered their services in the matter, and it goes without saying that under their careful and skilled attention the sanitarium will be a success from the first.

To Mrs. Cuthbert Martin, the capable and tireless president of the Wil-and to the other ladies of the chapter, and to the otser ladies of the chapter, all of whom have worked ceaselessly for the much needed institution, the credit for securing the tuberculosis sanitarium is due, and every public-spirited citizen of Wilmington will remember each and all of the members with grateful thanks for their successful efforts in securing an institution that will not only be a great aid to the city, but will also be a haven of refuge for helpless and suffering humanity.

The following is the list of donors read at the meeting yesterday:

ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT

Coast Artillery Corps, N. C. N. G., Getting Ready for Outing

The Wilmington Light Infantry, the second company of the North Carolina Artillery Corps, has already begun preparations for the annual encampment of the corps which will be held at Fort Caswell with the regulars of the United States Army from August 5th to 16th. Drills are held every week now by the W. L. I. boys and they are getting in fine trim for the annual maneuvers to be held at Fort Caswell, where they hope to capture first honors as usual. The North Carolina Coast Artillery Corps is composed of six companies as follows: Wilmington, Charlotte, Greensboro, Henderson, Salisbury and Salisbury. All the companies attend the annual encampment. Maj. Max S. Barker, of Salisbury, is the commanding officer of the corps.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

White Man Resisted Officer—Chicken Poisoning Case.

Ed Vaughn, a white man who claimed to hail from the Palmetto State, was the star defendant in the Recorder's court yesterday morning. The man was arrested at the union station Thursday night by Officer L. J. Weeks on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He resisted the officer, and an additional charge was brought against him in the county tribunal. He was given the alternative of paying a fine of $25 and costs for resisting an officer, or of spending three months on the county roads. He did not have the money and unless his friends come to his rescue he will have to serve his term.

Mary Boone, colored, was found guilty of cruelty to animals, having poisoned her neighbors' chickens, seven of which expired as a result. On account of the defendant s condition, judgment was suspended on payment of the costs, provided she pay the plaintiff 50 cents for each of the seven chickens which died from the effects of the poison.

Julius Hill, colored, was charged with vagrancy, the warrant being one that was issued last Winter. The negro has since found employment and a nol pros was taken.

MR. W. H. VANN DEAD.

Passed Away at Home in Cerro Gordo Yesterday Morning.

Friends in Wilmington as well as elsewhere will regret very much to hear of the death of Mr. William Henry Vann, of Cerro Gordo, which occurred at his home at that place yesterday morning at 8:25 o'clock, following an illness of about three years.

The deceased was 74 years old and came to North Carolina about 45 years ago. He was a veteran of the War Between the States, having fought bravely during the long struggle. Mr. Vann was a prominent member of the Fair Bluff Lodge of Masons and was an active member and greatly interested in the work of the Pine Forest Baptist church.

He is survived by his widow and 12 children, 10 sons and two daughters, as follows: Messrs. J. D., W. L. and C. B. Vann, of Wilmington; C. L. Vann, of Columbia, S. C.; J. F. Vann, Miami, Fla.; J. V. Vann, Macon, Ga.; H. F., R. B., R. E. and L. P. Vann and Miss Margaret Vann, of Cerro Gordo, and Mrs. C. W. Harrelson, Mullins, S. C., nearly all of whom were with him at the time of his death.

The funeral will be held this afternoon from the residence at Cerro Gordo. Interment will be in the family burying ground.

DELGADO VS. A. C. L.

Strong Teams Will Line Up at League Park This Afternoon.

While baseball interest is centered just now in the big leagues, it will be a pleasure to the fans to know that locally a big game has been arranged for this afternoon at League Park. It will be between the fast team of Delgado and the strong Atlantic Coast Line Athletics. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock and the admission will be 25 cents, including admission to the grandstand. Both teams are in fine fettle and with the proper showing this afternoon, it is not at all unlikely that a series of games will be arranged for the remainder of the season.

The Delgado line-up will be: Ausley, second base; Lutterloh, third base; Isley, centre field; Woods, first base; Taylor, shortstop; Holt, pitcher; Williams, left field; Carlstrom, right field.

The Tidewater Power Co., promises good car service and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance as future games will depend upon the patronage received this afternoon.

Several Rats Examined.

The first examination of rats for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the rodents here are infested with fleas that carry the bubonic plague, were made yesterday at the United States Marine Hospital, by officials of the health department assisted by the government experts. Several rats were examined and some fleas were found, but in no instance was there any sign of the plague germ. The examinations will be continued and it is hoped that all results will be equally as gratifying as those of the first day's work.

Hotel Men In the City

Messrs. W. C. Petty, Charlotte; T. A. Green, Spartanburg, S. C., and P. Sanders, Greensboro, well-known hotel men, who are to build a handsome new commercial hotel at corner of Front and Walnut streets, are spending a few days in the city and at the beach. They are here for the purpose of considering the plans for the erection of the new hotel, work on which is expected to begin in the near future.

CONDITIONS ARE FAVORABLE

Underwriters Are Pleased With General Appearance of Premises Visited—Some Suggestions Made at Conference.

A conference was held yesterday morning between Councilman B. C. Moore, in charge of the Department of Public Safety; Geo. L. Peschau, Esq., assistant city attorney, and Chief Chas. Schnibben, of the fire department, representing the municipality, and a committee of three visiting fire insurance men who are among those making an inspection of the city for the North Carolina Fire Prevention Association.

The conference was very informal in nature, but nevertheless will likely produce fine results. One of the main things considered was the new fire laws that have been drawn and compiled by Assistant City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau, and which are to be a part of the ordinances of the city, when the laws compiled by him have been enacted into law, which should not be a great while now. Members of the fire insurance men's committee spoke in the highest praise of the ordinances and declared that they could not be improved upon except in a few instances, which were pointed out. They complimented Mr. Peschau very highly upon his fine work in compiling the ordinances. They also stated that they had found conditions very favorable in Wilmington and from present indications would have a splendid report to make. There are some 30 or 40 inspectors at work in the city and they had not finished yesterday at noon, although they had been engaged since Wednesday. A number of suggestions were made and these will be complied with in order to further entitle the city of Wilmington to the lowest fire rate of any city in North Carolina, which it now enjoys.

A SUCCESSFUL CANVASS.

Many Leading People Taking Advantage of Star Course Offer.

A large number of the leading people of Wilmington are commending by their subscription for season tickets the Star Course projected and announced in these columns of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church.

The abnormally low price and the high character of the attractions offered has proven a wonderful appeal, and a very large number have entered their names for season tickets.

The Brotherhood wish it emphasized that the course is not a gainful one, and not confined to the church they represent, but for the civic good and for all the people of the city. Every subscriber will be notified by a system of postal cards and the publicity of the newspapers amply in advance of each number, so that no one will be called on to miss a number through lack of notification.

Every subscriber will be assured a reserved seat in the reserved section of Memorial Building.

The seating capacity of the building is limited, and, of course, when the limit is sold, no more course tickets will be offered for sale. The price of a single admission will be much higher than the pro rata admission on season ticket. The price of general admission for any three numbers would amount to the price of a season ticket. It would prove helpful for a number to buy a season ticket, even if they knew that they would not attend the entire series, and give away their tickets for the other numbers to some of their friends or employes, thus bringing into touch with this magnificent offering a number of the young lives of the city.

The canvass for season tickets will close on next Monday. All details can be secured from D. L. Latta, Alexander Sprunt & Son.

IMR. J. W. SMITH INJURED.

Knocked Down by Street Car at Sixth and Princess Streets.

Mr. J. W. Smith, the clever local superintendent of Southern Express Company, was hit by a belt car at Sixth and Princess streets yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, being thrown to the ground and sustaining a cut on the left side of his head and a number of bruises. His many friends will be glad to learn that his injuries are not of a serious nature and that he will probably be out again today or tomorrow.

Mr. Smith was on an outward bound belt car from the junction. At Sixth and Princess he left the car and started across the track on the other side, when he was hit by a belt car coming to the junction from the sheds. He was thrown to the ground and dazed by the fall. His home is but a short distance away, at 113 North Sixth, and he was assisted there, where Dr. F. H. Russell attended him. Dr. Russell stated that the injuries were not serious.

PART WORTH. PROPERTY SOLD

Clyde Line Buys Wharf and Warehouse Site From the Fidelity Investment & Development Company for $125,000.

News of the second largest and one of the most important local real estate transactions in years came over the telegraph wires from New York City last evening in a message from Mr. C. E. Greenamyer, president of the Fidelity Investment & Development Company, to Mr. D. N. Chadwick, Jr., secretary and treasurer of the company, to the effect that he had just closed a deal whereby the Clyde Line Steamship Company takes over the property occupied by its wharf and warehouse for a consideration of $125,000.

The transaction, according to Mr. Greenamyer's telegram, is practically closed, though the deal will have to be ratified by the board of directors of the Clyde Company on July 25th, before the papers can finally change hands. Mr. Greenamyer's telegram also carried the assurance that the sale was for cash and not on time.

Scarcely a month ago, as will be remembered by readers of The Star, the Fidelity Investment & Development Co. purchased through the A. W. Pate Real Estate agency from the Worth estate, the property known as the "Worth property," on each side of Nutt street, between Grace and Walnut streets, for a consideration of $150,000.

The Worth property embraced the wharf and warehouse of the Clyde Steamship Company, the plant of the Cape Fear Machine Works, the building occupied by the Worth Company, and a number of other business houses on Nutt street.

The price paid by the Fidelity Investment & Development Company, $150,000 was regarded as being a very fair consideration for such a valuable parcel of business property, but on account of the large figures the sale was a matter of much interest to the public. The second sale, by which the Fidelity Investment & Development Co., sells about half of its holdings for a consideration only $25,000 short of what was paid for the whole parcel will also be received with interest.

Mr. Greenamyer's telegram to Mr. Chadwick yesterday was in substance as follows: "Just closed two hours' session with H. H. and J. S. (referring to Messrs. H. H. Ramon and J. S. Ramon, vice president and general manager, respectively, of the Clyde Company). The property is sold, $125,000. Includes to end of shed. Both will recommend purchase at directors' meeting July 25th and assure me that we can consider sold for cash."

Mr. Greenamyer left for New York several days ago especially to see the officials of the Clyde Line and if possible to close the deal with them, as tentative negotiations had been on for some time. The quick manner in which he handled the big deal attests his ability as a business man and the ready sale of the property at such an attractive figure reflects great credit on the business acument of those composing the Fidelity Investment & Development Company.

The tract purchased by the Clyde Line has a frontage on Nutt street of about 200 feet and extends west from Nutt street about 400 feet to the channel line in the harbor. East of Nutt street the company has another solid tract, upon which there are a number of business houses, almost as large as the parcel sold yesterday. This property is regarded as among the most valuable business property in the city and it is hardly likely to remain on the market long.

CANOE OVERTURNED IN SURF.

Two Young White Men Have Struggle in Waves Off Beach.

While on a canoe ride out from Wrightsville Beach yesterday morning, about half way between Lumina and the Carolina Yacht Club, Carl Johnson and another young white man named Ed, were capsized on the reef. They righted the canoe, and made another start, but on account of being partly full of water the frail craft soon overturned again. Johnson soon became exhausted in the water and began calling for help. In the meantime Ed started to swim ashore. Johnson was able to keep up by holding to the overturned boat. The alarm was given at Lumina and Lifesaver W. B. Savage and his men launched the life boat and started to rescue Johnson. However, as soon as they got out a short distance they saw that the canoe had drifted in to where Johnson could touch bottom with his feet and they did not go any farther. The two young men were none the worse off for their experience.

Still on Admiralty Case

The admiralty case entitled Enrico Villa, Master of the Italian steamship Italia, et als., vs. Schooner Brina P. Pendleton, which was taken up in Federal Court here Thursday, before Judge H. G. Connor, occupied the attention of court again yesterday, but will probably be completed some time today. It is an action for $37,000 alleged to be due the libelants for saving the vessel and cargo of the Pendleton a few months ago. Hon. John D. Bellamy, for the claimants, and George Rountree, Esq., for the libellants, made their arguments yesterday afternoon.

Young Women Students of College to Occupy Building

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Trinity College, Durham, N. C., July 11.—The residence on the north side of the campus used in recent years as a club house for the unmarried members of the faculty will next year be occupied by Mrs. E. F. Gunn and the young women students of the college. The house is now being thoroughly renovated and its location will make it a most convenient home for the young women. Mrs. Gunn, in the years gone, gave great satisfaction as matron of the Woman's Building and her return to this sort of service is welcomed.

Business Men's Bible Class.

The meeting of the Business Men's Bible Class of the First Baptist church Sunday School is now held in the morning instead of the afternoon as formerly. Members are very enthusiastic over the change and say that the morning is the time for the meeting. This is evidenced by the increased attendance last Sunday. The class expects to double the attendance, which now averages 50. All men in the city who do not attend any Sunday School and visitors at the seaside resorts, are cordially invited to attend. 9:45 A. M. is the hour.

BUNNY SAYS

AT THE BIJOU TODAY.

NO MORE ABSINTHE.

Importation Into U. S. and Sale Prohibited After October.

Washington, July 12.—The importation of absinthe into the United States and its sale in inter-State commerce was prohibited after October 1st, next by the pure food decision signed today by Secretary Wilson.

"It is generally recognized," says the decision, "that this beverage is dangerous to health."

Members of the pure food board expressed the opinion today that the decision would virtually abolish the use of absinthe in the United States.

Belgium, Switzerland and Holland have passed laws forbidding its manufacture, sale and importation; and the French Senate two weeks ago took similar action. Absinthe also is condemned by the laws of Brazil.

Temple, Texas, July 11.—Two members of a camping party were drowned in the Lampasas river near Lampasas late yesterday. Two others of the party who were rescued are in a critical condition.

To Look and Feel Bright in Hot Weather

(From The Woman Beautiful.)

This is the season when she who would have a rose-leaf complexion lily-white neck and hands, should turn her thoughts to mercolized wax, the firm friend of the Summer girl. Nothing so effectually overcomes the soiling effects of sun, wind, dust and dirt. The wax literally absorbs the scorched, discolored, withered or coarsened cuticle, bringing forth a brand new skin, clear, soft and girlishly beautiful. It also unclogs the pores, removing blackheads and increasing the skin's breathing capacity. An ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, applied nightly like cold cream, and washed off mornings, will gradually improve the worst complexion.

When depresed by the heat and you want to freshen up for the evening, bathe the face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. You'll find this more refreshing than an hour's rest. It also smooths out fine lines, affecting even the deeper wrinkles.

LOCAL DOTS.

—A dispatch from Washington, D. C., announces the appointment of Edward R. Jones as postmaster at Castle Haynes, vice J. W. Winders, resigned.

—The British schooner M. J. Taylor, Capt. Dukeshire, which has been discharging a cargo of molasses here, cleared light yesterday for Jacksonville.

—The Epworth League of Grace Methodist church will in the future hold its services at 10:15 A. M. on Sunday, just preceding the preaching service.

—Preparations were made in the office of the city clerk and treasurer yesterday for bringing 30 or 40 suits in Superior Court against persons who have not paid their taxes for the past several years, ranging in amounts from $50 to $200.

—James Grady, colored, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer T. M. Hall on a charge of larceny. The negro was attempting to pawn a pair of No. 6 shoes, while the pair on his feet were number nines. He was locked up at the police station pending an investigation of the matter.

—Dr. Herman Spitz, of Nashville, Tenn., leaves today after spending 10 days at the United States Marine Hospital here doing research work under Dr. Chas. W. Stiles. Dr. Spitz returns to Nashville to resume his duties with the Tennessee State Board of Health, with which he is connected.

—It was stated at the police station yesterday that an investigation had revealed that the white child left at the home of Joe Shepard, colored, on 13th, between Market and Princess, had been left by its mother until she could make arrangements to secure a home for herself. The mother came for the child later.

—Suit was instituted in Superior Court yesterday by J. K. Taylor against John Thomas, an action brought by the plaintiff for damages, it is said, for alleged injuries received by being hurt by a cart owned by the defendant. The complaint has not yet been filed. J. W. Little, Esq., appears for the plaintiff.

—The following is handed The Star for publication: "From a gentleman who has traveled in Western North Carolina and mingled promiscuously with all the parties in existence with the exception of the new Third party, states that the Democrats and Republicans are going to support Senator Simmons in the coming Fall campaign."

—Yoke Fellows appointments for tomorrow are as follows: City prison, L. D. Latta and H. E. O'Keef; county home, R. F. Coleman and John Wells; Castle Haynes, Rev. M. O. Alexander; Wrightsboro Union Sunday School, J. T. Sholar and H. S. McGirt; fire station, B. A. Robertson and J. B. Woosley; Wrightsville Sound, Rev. M. O. Alexander and H. E. O'Keef.

—Mayor Joseph D. Smith has received a request from the Mayor of Fayetteville for three members of the local police force to do service there during the firemen's tournament, which will be held July 23rd, 24th and 25th. The request was turned over to Councilman B. C. Moore, in charge of the Department of Public Safety, and he will doubtless send the officers as requested.

KEEPING COOL.

Summer Diet, Clothes and Sleeping Are Important Considerations.

Well, anyway, don't worry about it. We are scheduled for hot weather, and worrying will not cool it any. On the other hand, worrying is sure to make you feel much hotter. Take things easy. Smile at the other fellow when he says it's hot. Be good natured. A cool temper and a sunny disposition go well with hot weather.

Be discriminating in your eating. Leave off meats, particularly fat meats, butter, and all greasy, oily, heavy foods at least until cold weather. Eat sparingly of fish or eggs, if you think you must have animal food. Take advantage of the fruit, vegetable and berry season. It was not an accident that such seasons come in Summer. Drink a lot, but be careful what you drink. Make sure that it is water, pure and simple, and that its character and quality are above reproach or suspicion. Drink enough water to supply abundant perspiration. It is not a disgrace to perspire. It is an aid to health and comfort. It is nature's own method of cooling the body and ridding it of waste matter. Perspire freely in hot weather. It goes a long way toward keeping happy, healthy, cool, and comfortable in summer.

Keep the bowels moving regularly, and freely, at all times, particularly during hot weather. Don't use purgatives except as a last resort or under a physician's direction. Lots of water, combined with a fruit diet for a day or two, will usually establish good bowel action. Then keep it up regularly at least once, in some cases twice a day. Constipation is the great American disease. It is the disease of the azy,l the idle, the sluggard, the indolent, the sedentary and the inactive. In fact, it occasionally requires considerable discretion, will power and exercise to fight it off, but it can be done, and any one who does it will feel so well repaid this summer that he will never permit it again.

For comfort, dress according to the season. This is preeminently the season for light colors and light weight, porous, loose-fitting cothes. Tight fitting clothes are for women only. Mere man will never be induced to imprison himself within close fitting clothes. Under summer temperatures it is burden enough for him to be required to keep within the bounds of modesty in regard to clothing.

Nothing so fortifies one against attacks of hot weather as a good night's sleep. For lots of people nothing is harder to get. If you have not taken a reasonable amount of exercise, perhaps you don't deserve much sleep. If you are troubled with indigestion, eat a light fruit supper, or omit it entirely. If your room or your bed is hot, or if you are too warm to go to sleep quickly on a hot night, take a cool bath just before retiring. A tub bath is excellent, but a cold rub down with a cloth or sponge is almost as good. After thus becoming thoroughly cleansed and cooled by such a bath, it is comparatively easy to get a good night's sleep in spite of the hot weather.

..Theatrical..

Depicting the life romance of a typical Westerner, the Grand Theatre will offer today an especially thrilling picture in Selig's masterpiece, "The Old Stage Coach." Saturday's crowds are always large at the Grand and today and tonight will witness a repetition of the big week-end successes of the past.

In the Selig to be offered as a topliner today Frank Richards drives for the Continental Stage Line in the early '70s, and is given a new coach to drive. June Adams is a passenger and becomes Frank's sweetheart. June goes away on account of her health and dies, but her memory is cherished in the stage coach which he drives. The railroad makes the old stage useless and it is sold at auction. Frank tries to buy the old coach, but is outbid by a stranger. Years later Frank meets his old superintendent, then a railroad president, at a circus and the old stage is introduced in a hold-up scene. The events that follow are sensational and pathetic in the extreme, all forming a story that is engaging and beautiful.

The other topliner for today is the first presentation of an Essanay, "Signal Lights," an intensely interesting and novel story, a railroad drama that grips and holds attention to the last foot of the reel. Martha Russell, Francis X. Bushman and Baby Lynch, a wonderful child actress are features in splendid roles. Then in addition to these two there is still another film and the always delightfully cool house and the splendid music by the orchestra should inspire all to attend today for certain.

At the Bijou

The new Bijou has prepared a big bunch of fine things for today, to make this a glorious week-end, and as the star of its big film bill it will offer no less a person than Mr. John Bunny, the noted moving picture comedian, who will appear in the role of "Mr. Burton Consul to China," in the swellest film the Vitagraph people have ever manufactured, "The Troublesome Stepdaughter." This is a film that gives Bunny, whose fat face and equally corpulent body are well known to moving picture devotees, a chance to be at his best. The situations in the story are of the brightest and merriest character and will arouse people to howls of laughter. Yet this is but one of the feature films at the Bijou today.

"Eddie's Exploit" is an Edison wonder among today's gems and it will also provide plenty of mirth for the people. It is a novel film, too, which will likewise add much to the pleasure of the onlookers.

A superb film showing the Westminister Kennel Club's dog show at the New Grand Central Palace, New York, is also one of today's features, and this will prove highly interesting especially to lovers of good dogs. So it can be seen that today is going to be a great week-end at the new Bijou, the place of cool breezes and healthful ventilation.

HERD RECORDS

Important Dairying Work Being Carried on From Washington

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, D. C., July 6.—One of the most encouraging lines of work which the U. S. Department of Agriculture is carrying on in the South is the institution of herd records on dairy farms. By this means the unprofitable cow is detected and can be disposed of for slaughter. The heifer calves from the profitable cows are raised to take the place of the unprofitable animals. In this way the quality of the herd is steadily improved. The daily weighing of the milk and the testing for butterfat enable the dairyman to feed the individual animals according to the production and to select such feeds for the ration as are shown to give the best results.

The Department receives many letters from dairymen of the South bearing on the value of this work. Mr. J. K. Morrison, a dairyman of Grenada, Mississippi, writes under date of March 29th, as follows:

"I write to express my great appreciation of the work done for me by your department.

"From the records kept I found two cows that produced over $200 profit. One, $110.88, the other $103.80. A two-year old heifer made $97.50, net profit. I began to test with six cows. I have sold two of them as they were unsatisfactory. I have four more that have not finished the year's test but I will probably sell three of them and replace with registered stock.

"I built a concrete floor in my dairy barn. Have laid the foundation for a silo; have ordered stanchions and a registered bull.

"The butter I sell is put up in pasteboard cartons and brings 35 cents per pound. I get an average of 28 cents for milk.

"I wish to assure you as the head of the dairy department that I shall help to spread the gospel of better cows, better methods of handling, and more feeding of carbohydrate value.

"Excessive use of meal and hulls is doing much to keep us down in dairy work in the South. Cheap protein should be a help and not a hindrance. I thank you that you are trying to help the little dairyman.

"I shall not be satisfied until I have a dairy of ten cows producing a net profit of $100 each. I should do this at an early date with the aid of the Babcock tester, the scales, a silo, and more grain which I have to raise this season. I am thoroughly imbued with the dairying spirit and hope that I can repay the Department for the aid given me by helping others."

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

Mrs. Cobb and Miss Leila Cobb, of Goldsboro, arrived yesterday at Mrs. Dunn's cottage to spend some time.

Miss Virginia Italyne Hyman left yesterday for her home at Winona, S. C., after a stay of ten days at the beach.

Dr. Holliday and family, of Georgia, are very popular visitors at the beach and are stopping at the cottage of Mrs. Ashe.

Miss Janie Dunn left the beach yesterday morning for Hot Springs, Va., where she will spend several weeks with relatives and friends.

Messrs. McClesky, Young and Scott, of Atlanta, went outside in a boat from the Oceanic Hotel. They reported a catch of 175 fish in a few hours.

Miss Carney, of Norfolk, Va., and Miss Vaughn, of Winston-Salem, are the attractive guests of Miss Juliette Albright at her cottage on Wrightsville Beach.

Miss Sue Prince, of Wilmington, is the guest of Miss Bessie Bridgers, at her cottage on the beach. Miss Louise Wright, of Raleigh, is also a guest of Miss Bridgers.

Rev. Father C. Dennen announces that he will conduct mass at his cottage on the beach tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. All resident and visiting Catholics on the beach are cordially invited.

Among last night's arrivals at the Oceanic Hotel were the following: Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lamb, Waycross, Ga.; G. S. James, Hamlet; F. W. Butler and Miss M. McLean, Norfolk, Va.; T. J. Lindstedt, Charlotte.

A special meeting of the Carolina Yacht Club will be held at the club house tonight at 8 o'clock for the purpose of considering the matter of protection to bathers and such other business as may come before the meeting.

Mr. Jas. E. Womack, of Winston-Salem, and party went outside yesterday in the sharpie Virgia May, Capt. Wells, and caught a large number of fish as well as to capture a shark weighing about 250 pounds.

Mrs. H. L. Cook, Miss Margaret McNeill, "Sporty" Garrison, Marsh Alexander and Edwin Cook and D. H. Jones, of Fayetteville, who have been spending some days at the Parsley cottage, returned home yesterday.

More than 125 persons arrived yesterday on special Pullmans over the Seaboard Air Line for Wrightsville Beach, where they will spend ten days or more. With the guests already there and the usual week-end arrivals, practically all the hotels and boarding houses are filled.

Yesterday's Charlotte Observer: "Mrs. M. G. Hunter and daughter, Miss Hazel Mayer Hunter, are spending a while at the Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McCoy and daughters, Misses Helen and Edna McCoy, will leave this morning for Wrightsville Beach.

The second Class A race of the Carolina Yacht Club fleet for the Jones-Walters trophy will be sailed over the club course this afternoon beginning at 5 o'clock. Attention of the owners of boats is called to the fact that they will go into Mott's Channel on the second round instead of the first.

Miss Mary Lanier, of Birmingham, Ala., arrived yesterday to join her cousin, Miss Jette Lanier, of West Point, Ga., who is spending some time at the Seashore Hotel. Miss Jette Lanier is one of the most popular young ladies at the seashore and her cousin, has already made a large number of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Huggins entertained Wednesday evening at their cottage at a most enjoyable, though informal, dinner party: Mr. and Mrs. George Forrester, Mrs. W. C. Jarnigan, Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Busbee, Raleigh; Miss Hal Morrison, Raleigh; Mrs. Frank Meador, Atlanta, and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Northrop, Wilmington.

Among yesterday's arrivals at the Hanover Inn were Mrs. L. L. Covington and children and nurse, and Dr. W. P. Webb, Rockingham; Mrs. R. W. Arnold, Boston, Mass.; J. L. Justice, New York; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Harper, Miss Marguerite Harper, Miss Edwina Harper and N. W. Almand, Jr., Atlanta. Mr. Harper is a member of the well known Atlanta real estate firm of Ware & Harper.

The following composed a very pleasant fishing party out in the yacht Edwin Thursday: Mr. Paul E. Johnson, Mr. W. W. Massee, Mr. Hudson Moore, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Bancroft, Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Fenn and Miss Virginia Fenn, Atlanta; Miss Margaret McNeill and D. H. Jones, Fayetteville; Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Holliday, Allen Holliday, Geo. T. Hodgson, Athens, Ga.; Miss Effie Bell, Griffith, Ga.; Miss Louise Applewhite, Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carroll, Chester, S. C.

In the handsome ball room of the Oceanic Hotel this morning from 10 to 12 o'clock the first of the regular morning dances of the season will be given and promise to prove exceedingly popular with guests of the hotel and young people from the city. Manager Jesse N. Couch, of the Oceanic, is to be congratulated upon this progressive step, which adds greatly to the pleasures and diversions offered at the seashore. Music will be furnished by the Oceanic Orchestra. Young people of the city as well as those at the hotel and on the beach are invited to attend.

Arrivals at The Seashore Hotel yesterday were Geo. A. Holderness, Tarboro; J. E. Honnessen and family, Salisbury; Jas. S. Hooper, Little Rock Creek; A. L. Blackwell and J. S. Cleveland, Darlington; H. E. Roney, Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Alexander and J. H. Alexander, Augusta, Ga.; Misses Hazel Kirk and Dorothy Kirk, Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Beasley, Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. F. E. McLeod and E. R. Kirk, Atlanta.

Nearly all members of the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity which held a special annual session at the Hanover Inn Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, left yesterday for their homes in the several States in which the fraternity is represented, but some will remain for a few days longer. Mr. John D. Carroll, the popular Grand Secretary, who presided over the sessions in the absence of the president and vice president, leaves today for Marion, S. C., where he will spend a few days before going to his home at Columbia, S. C. All the boys are loud in their praise of the service and fare at the Hanover Inn, asserting that they could not have been more royally entertained anywhere. Thursday night, following the souvenir dance at Lumina, refreshments were served the party by the hotel management, which was greatly appreciated by the college men and their friends. The young men expect to hold their regular convention next year at Wrightsville Beach.

The arrivals at the Oceanic Hotel yesterday was the largest of any one day since the opening of the season, more than 100 registering at the popular hostelry. While the hotel is comfortably filled with guests, others are expected to arrive today from different parts of this and other States. Among the arrivals yesterday were the following: J. V. Glove, Mrs. S. E. Bixby, Miss Balanger, A. O. Wilhoit, Park A. Dalton, Atlanta; Mrs. W. B. Everett, Rocky Mount; Mrs. Annie M. Nolan, Miss E. Harold, Miss Annie Nolan, Miss Annie Lamon and Mrs. E. W. THIN FOLKS MADE FAT

The Way Samose Works Its Wonders Guaranteed by J. Hicks Bunting Drug Company

More than half the readers of Wilmington would give almost anything to be plump and rosy instead of thin and scrawny.

Physicians and chemists for years have studied the problem of making a flesh-forming food but it is only within the last few months that a bright man discovered the prescription that taken with the daily meals give a positive increase in flesh. In fact it was so certain in its action that a guarantee was attached to each package stating that if weight did not increase as a result of using it, the purchase price would be refunded.

This preparation is now put up in convenient form for use under the name of Samose.

They have secured the agency in Wilmington for Samose and as the percentage of satisfactory results from the use of this perscription is so nearly one hundred per cent they feel there is no risk in offering to refund the money if Samose does not do all that is claimed for it.

Everybody that is thin and out of health should begin today the use of Samose with a guarantee like this.

EXCITING ADVANCE IN COTTON

The Rise Carried Prices to a New High Level for the Season Before The Closing—Close 18 to 22 Points Higher

New York, July 12.—After a forenoon of comparative dullness the cotton market developed an excited advance around 1 o'clock which carried prices up to new high levels for the season before closing. This upturn was remarkable in one particular, as it seemed to result more from a lack of offerings than from anything particularly bullish in the news. All day the amount of contracts for sale in the market had been very light. Crop advices and the spot situation had both discouraged any activity on the bear side, but as there was no important demand from either room quarters or the public, the market had given little evidence of strength apart from the underlying firmness which has been a feature for several days past. The buying, which really started the upturn in the early afternoon, was understood to have been an effort on the part of the prominent commission house which was short of the market. It immediately became the signal for a demand which in a short time was general and heavy, carrying October up steadily to 12.37, December to 12.47 and January to 12.45 or 4 to 6 points above the previous high level and 21 to 23 points over the close of yesterday. The close was 18 to 22 points net higher and at practically the best point of the day. A significant feature of the market today was the report that American spinners were buying new crop cotton freely, following the example set some time ago by the English spinners. Much interest was taken in the Texas situation today by reason of the dry weather and high temperatures in that State. The Eastern belt also had continued showers with more expected tomorrow so that the crop situation on the whole was very satisfactorily to the bears. Old crop months opened 7 to 8 points higher and new crops two points higher to 5 points lower. Receipts 4,119 bales, against 2,818 last week and 427 last year.

Today's receipts at New Orleans 686, against 148 last year, at Houston 99, against 66 last year, and at Galveston 668 bales, against 167 last year.

Spot closed steady; middling uplands, 12.50; middling gulf, 12.75; sales, 900.

Futures closed firm.

What Makes a Woman?

One hundred and twenty pounds, more or less, of bone and muscle don't make a woman. It's a good foundation. Put into it health and strength and she may rule a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters gives her. Thousands bless them for overcoming fainting and dizzy spells and for dispelling weakness, nervousness, backache and tired, listless, worn out feeling. "Electric Bitters have done me a world of good," writes Eliza Pool, Depew, Okla., "and I thank you, with all my heart, for making such a good medicine." Only 50c. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

CERTAIN ISSUES WERE DULL

Heaviness In Many Stocks Later Verged on Weakness—Fear of Unfavorable Bank Statement Restraining Influence

New York, July 12.—Heaviness which subsequently verged on weakness in certain issues was the dominant note of today's dull and rather perfunctory stock market session. Prices were inclined to improve at the outset, but selling soon appeared in Amalgamated Copper, Union Pacific and St. Paul, the latter declining to its lowest quotation in almost five years on rumors affecting the crops in its territory. Later Chicago Northwestern declined for similar reasons.

Yet another restraining influence was the fear that tomorrow's bank statement might be no less unfavorable than last week's, which uncovered a deficit in the actual cash reserves. The known movements of money point to a small cash gain by local banks, but hardly enough to restore the reserves.

Lowest prices of the day were made in the last hour when the list seemed to sag of its own weight. Efforts to break St. Paul to par were ineffective until toward the close, but from this level a feeble rally was made with some slight improvement elsewhere.

Call money did not touch yesterday's high figure, despite increased demand. Time rates were without appreciable change and bankers are now hopeful of greater ease.

Bonds here were irregular, with some strength to tractions. Total sales, par value were $2,932,000. United States governments were unchanged on call. Total sales 306,300 shares.

THE WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

Rains and Cool Weather Have Caused Prices to Advance Rapidly—Crop Backwardness Was Also A Factor

New York, July 12.—Cotton has advanced sharply and the reasons stand out with striking clearness. Rains and cool weather in the Atlantic, Eastern, Gulf and Central sections have had much to do with it. Reports of dry hot weather in Texas have had some affect. The general backwardness of the crop and a growing belief in many quarters that the acreage was reduced 7 or 8 per cent also contributed to the rise. Then there were large spot sales in Liverpool amounting to 10,000 to 12,000 bales a day. There was the activity and strength in Manchester as regards both yarns and cloths. There was the strong spot situation at the South coincident with a persistent demand, especially for the better grades which were by no means easy to get, even at steadily rising prices. Finally there was an active and broadening speculation here for a rise. Shorts here and at the South and West have covered on a large scale. Memphis, New Orleans, Chicago and New York have all liquidated short accounts on a scale that has given a powerful impetus to the upward rush of prices. Not less powerful has been the big buying for a rise partly by the outside public, which after a recent advance of nearly $5 a bale, has apparently become convinced that the bulls in cotton have been in earnest. Liverpool and spot interest have bought freely. Wall Street houses have in many cases bought and now all eyes are beginning to be fixed on Texas. East of the Mississippi there have been complaints of excessive rains and of damage in parts of the Eastern gulf section by cut worms, boll weevil and caterpillars. But Texas now needs rain, according to many dispatches and also according to the latest weekly government weather report. Liverpool has pricked up its ears. At times it has reported buying there owing to a fear of the effects of hot weather in Texas. And although the crop reports from Texas have been as a rule favorable, some advices from parts of that State have been more so than recently. Meantime, the crop throughout the belt is said to average some two to four weeks later and bulls predict that it will be two million to 2,500,000 bales smaller than that of last year with spinners' takings approaching 15,000,000. On the other hand, the recent advance in prices has been so marked that many are predicting a sudden and sharp set back sooner or later. They point out that what is termed the technical position has changed for the worse, that whereas, recently the market was oversold, it now shows a tendency to become overbought, if indeed, it is not already overbought. On the rise big Wall Street bull interests have sold on ai enormous scale. Also certain spot interests have sold heavily. The long holdings sold out by big people have, it is contended, gone into weaker hands. It is also argued that there is still time to raise a big crop and that in any case, the price of cotton, especially in these times of the high cost of living, is already high enough if not indeed, altogether too high.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, July 12.—Rust reports from two States today as against two counties heretofore, gave the wheat market a decided upward slant. There was a nervous close with prices 1 to 1¼c over last night. Final trades in corn ranged from unchanged figures to ⅞c advance, and oats showed a rise of ⅝ to 2¼. Provisions were strung out from 15 off to the same level of 22 hours back.

THE OLD BAND.

Did you ever have er hankerin' to be er boy ag'in;
To go way back whar lusty life begins;
Way back to yo' fus' breeches, when you felt the worl' was yourn,
An' all yo' chores an' errands tried to shurn?
Is thar some pleasure mo' than all that you would now recall,
As shadders of life's evenin' slowly
fall;
That brightens yo' declinin' years an'
makes them smoothy glide,
An' helps to brush yo' present keers aside?

Thar was jes' so many things er doin'
in our boyish days
That one mout think thar'd be no special praise
For any of th' many pranks th' mem'ry
now recalls—
From stonin' cats an' dogs to playin' ball.
Jes' when hit comes to gingerin' an'
limberin' up th' spine,
An' gittin' th' hull system into line,
"Three-Handed Cat," "Stingeree" was fus' to come to mind,
An' then "Ol' Hundred," "Scrub" an'
"Cut Behind."

Yet mem'ry of sich boyish sport soon
loses power to cheer;
They git mo' faint an' distant year by year;
Of all th' pleasantries of youth thar's
only jes' one joy
To have ag'in I'd gladly be er boy.
All others may go back in tho't an'
pine for what they may,
An' sing of rip'ning co'n an' new mown hay;
Th' thing I hankers after mos', as back in tho't I stray—
I'd like to hear th' Ol' Band play!

I've hear'd bands of all descriptions,
both north, south, east an' west;
Hear'd them th' worl' had boasted war
th' best;
I've heard Gilmore an' Thomas play ther choises' classic lays,
But would ruther hear th' Ol' Band
play!
I've hear'd John Philip Sousa play th'
strains of "Warrior Bold,"
But hit wa'n't like "Silver Threads
Among th' Gold;"
For real melodious music, that in yo'
heart would stay,
You'd ought to hear'd th' Ol' Band
play!

Thar was Dick Stove, with his trombone; Henry An'son with his bass; Makin' music swif' as raindrops in er race;
Thar was Guy Wright, with his clarinet; Henry Adams, with his B;
An' music made th' youngsters dance with glee;
Thar was Johnson, he play'd secon',
who, when hornblowin' was dull,
Could play er fiddle temptin' to th'
soul,
At Hilton, Paddy's Hollow, 'neath th'
Oaks on Kidder's Hill,
Whar good an' bad alike could dance ther fill!

Then thar was Jim, th' drummer—who could beat er drum like Jim?
Oh, th' little uns war awful proud er him.
How nicely he could keep ta' time!
"Shoo Fly, Don't Bother Me!
For I'm er Member of Ol' Comp'ny D."
Hit was up ol' Seventh to Market, an'
thro' Market down to Third,
Playin' "Molly Darlin'," swetes' ever heard;
From thence, up Third to Castle, while
"Up in a Baloon"
Made us wish to "Pay er Visit to th' Moon!"

How th' youngster useter summersault an' march and counter march,
An' with th' marchin' columns keep th'
time!
How th' ol' an' middle-aged would strut, ther aches an' pains forgot,
In thinkin' of th' days of youth an'
prime!
"Ca'line, Go Light th' Candle," "Put My Little Shoes Away," "Thar's er Lan' That is Fairer Than Day;"
"Oh, Rock th' Cradle, Lucy," an' "Comin' Thro' th' Rye,"
Would make th' ol' an' crippled young an' spry.

"I am Waitin' Here fer Allie," "Me an' Lula'l Hol' th' Deal,"
Would make th' sweetes' feelin' o'er you steal.
When they play'd "Go Tell Aunt Patsy", and "My Poor Nellie Gray," 'Twould make you wish fer wings to fly away.
Then we had no Gineral Jackson,
dress'd in gol' lace all fer show;
Then sich hifalutin' notions didn't go.
Hit was music, sweetes' music: "Darlin' I am Growin' Ol'."
Will live, forever live, within th' soul.
—JACK THORNE.

HE DON'T ADVERTISE.

Cares More for Rest Than for Worldy Aid.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said:
"My trade of late is getting bad;
I'll try another eight inch ad."

If such there be, go mark him well;
For him no bank account shall swell;
No angels watch the golden stair,
To welcome home the millionaire.

The man who never asks for trade
By local line or ad. displayed
Cares more for rest than worldly gain
And patronage but gives him pain.

Tread lightly, friends! let no rude sound
Disturb his solitude profound;
Here let him live in calm repose
Unsought except by men he owes.

And when he dies, go plant him deep,
That naught may break his dreamless sleep;
Where no rude clamor may dispel
The quiet that he loved so well.

And when the world may know its loss
Place on his grave a wreath of moss,
And on a stone above: "Here lies
A chump who wouldn't advertise."

The occasional rumblings heard now and then may be interpreted to mean that Tennessee is going to have some domestic politics after awhile.—Memphis News-Scimitar.

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW.

Volume of Business Reaches Seasonable Proportions—Harvests.

New York, July 12.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

The volume of business reaches seasonable proportions. With abundant harvests, which now seem assured, there should be an early and heavy demand for merchandise. Production has been slightly curtailed because of the hot weather and the necessity of making repairs, while difficulty in securing adequate labor has delayed the blowing in of several Eastern blast furnaces. Pressure for deliveries of all kinds of finished products, however, continues a significant feature of the situation.

In dry goods, jobbers, while buying steadily still display conservatism in their operations and are not inclined to purchase freely until they have more fully ascertained the trend of Fall demand. In woolens and worsteds the leading manufacturers are well supplied with orders for Fall, some being so fully engaged that they are not seeking new business. Announcement is made that the high cost of wool, advance in wages and shorters hours will lead to enhanced prices. New England footwear manufacturers are resuming operations, following the usual closing down at this season and many buyers are in the Boston market; prices asked are higher and both leather and hides are in demand at the advanced quotations.

That Boston preacher who asserts that no one will ever know on this side of eternity whether Hell is a place or a state of mind, speaks somewhat too hastily. The man who has to stretch a stationary salary to meet a constantly mounting cost of living, has been experiencing it for several years. —Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

$3.50 Recipe Free, For Weak Men.

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send them a copy in confidence, so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 4163 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain, ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

ed States automatically become citizens of this country as soon as their father is naturalized, but officials have invariably held in the past that all children dwelling outside the United States at the time of their father's naturalization must pass the immigration tests before they can enter and claim citizenship.

The secretary said the question revolved about the interpretation of the word "reside" in the immigration act, which provides that the citizenship shall become operative when a minor child "begins to reside permanently in the United States."

Residence being largely intention, Mr. Nagel declared that the constructive "residence" of the child as soon as it abandoned its foreign home, was the dwelling place of the father. Consequently when the little girl sailed from Russia she was constructively residing in the United States.

The question has never been decided by the courts in connection with the present immigration laws, and there was wide divergence of opinion among officials. Attorney General Wickersham and practically all of the authorities of the Department of Commerce and Labor at first disagreed with the secretary, but he is said to have convinced them of the correctness of his position.

WAKE BLIND TIGERS.

Double Punishment When They Have U. S. License—Cases.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N.C., July 12.—Judge Ferguson, of the Superior Court, laid down the rule in the trial of blind tigers today that persons guilty of selling whiskey should be punished twice as severely if they are found to have United States government license for selling whiskey. He is being called upon to dispose of an unusually large number of such cases this term. He made this statement right after he had at the request of citizens of Apex, released J. W. Jenks, of that town, on the payment of costs. His case developed the fact that he sold whiskey as "White Oak Club" at Apex in connection with his cafe and grocery. He promised to go out of business, if let off in this way.

Tom Denton, negro, of Wake Forest, was given eight months. He was shown to be the "head and front" of the "blind tiger" business in the vicinity of Wake Forest College.

Matthew Davis is to be placed on trial for his life Monday in the Superior Court on the charge of criminal assault on Virginia Matthews, a negro girl, less than two weeks ago, just west of the city. On Tuesday morning Chas. Faucette is to go on trial for burglarizing the home of Samuel Hawkins. Both prisoners were arraigned today. They are negroes. Joe Cook, colored, was also arraigned today, on the charge of the murder of Hilbert Hubbard, near Wendell. His case is postponed to the September term by consent.

JUDGE GETS PREFERENCE

Senate Will Try Archbald at Time He Desires

Washington, July 12.—The solemn ceremonies of impeachment of Judge Robert W. Archbald, of the Commerce Court, in the Senate, will depend as to date largely upon the preference expressed by the accused jurist.

At least a majority of the Republican Senators prefer to postpone the formal proceedings until cooler weather, meantime, allowing both the House, which adopted the articles of impeachment with but one dissenting vote, and the counsel for defense, ample time for preparation. The Democratic Senators are more disposed to favor earlier action, but both sides agreed today that Judge Archbald's preference should be given serious consideration. The different contentions—for immediate hearing and for postponement until next Autumn—probably will be fought out on the floor of the Senate.

The official impeachment papers prepared by the House employes today will be perfunctorily submitted to the Senate as soon as that body disposes of the Lorimer election case, the pendency of which blocks all other business.

PRIMARY CANDIDATES.

Democratic Convention in Wisconsin Completes Nominations.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 12.—The Democratic State convention adjourned this afternoo after compelling the nomination of its State ticket as follows:

A. J. Schmitz and J. C. Karel, nominated for Governor last night.

For Lieutenant Governor, H. A. Morehlenph, Clinton, and H. W. Bolens, Point Washington.

For Secretary of State, A. J. Kealy, Hudson (the only nominee for the office).

For Treasurer, Jacob Leonard, Marathon City, and Nicholas Schmidt, Marathon City.

For Attorney General, Charles A. Kading, Watertown, and J. F. Dougherty, La Crosse.

The candidates named will go before the primaries in September.

a good place for the headquarters," he said. "Of course, we should want to have an office at Chicago and another in the West."

Josephus Daniels had a long talk with the Governor, at the conclusion of which he issued a statement saying:

"There is not a bolter inside the ranks in any State in the Nation. Emphasis was given this situation today with the announcement in the morning papers to the effect that former Senator Pettigrew, of South Dakota, had journeyed to Oyster Bay and pledged allegiance to the Bull Moose. Senator Pettigrew, who is best known as a Populist and Republican and who is everything but a Democrat, made a vain effort to break into the Baltimore convention. The National Democracy refused to have any part of him, and after being denied a seat as a delegate he has cast his lot with the Bull Moose. The Democracy is to be congratulated. Never has the party been so united, and the ex-Populist from South Dakota has rendered it a real service by giving emphasis to the fact that there is not a bolting member between the two oceans.

Among the Governor's other callers today were William L. Marbury, of Baltimore, who managed the Wilson campaign in Maryland; Colonel D. G. McIntosh, of Towson, Md., and A. M. Thompson, of Pittsburg, Wilson leaders. Messrs. Marbury and McIntosh promised to make things hum for the Governor in Maryland and Mr. Thompson said that the Democrats in Western Pennsylvania were going after progressive votes in a rousing campaign.

Senators Watson and Chilton, of West Virginia, who were expected today, were detained, but sent word that they hoped to call next week.

Belated telegrams of congratulations included the following from Richard Olney, of Massachusetts, who was in Cleveland's cabinet: "My congratulation on a well-deserved victory of immense importance to the country and as unique in its responsibilities as its honors."

OFFICIALLY NOTIFIED

Senate Hears British Protest Against Canal Administration

Washington, July 12.—The Senate was officially notified of the British protest against the Panama canal administration tonight when Secretary of State Knox in a letter to Senator Grandegee, chairman of the Senate Inter-ocean Canals Committee, outlined the objections raised by Great Britain. The letter paraphrasing the protest by Charge d'Affaires Innes was generally accepted as voicing the decision of the State Department to leave the entire matter in the hands of Congress ,where the legislation in dispute is now pending.

Secretady Knox's letter follows:

"Sir:—I have the honor to bring to the knowledge of your committee the fact that a communication dated the 8th inst., just received from the British Charge de'Affaires, indicates that the attention of the British government having been called to various proposals from time to time made for the relieving of American shipping from the payment of tolls on vessels passing through the Panama canal, that government has studied carefully those proposals and the arguments in support of them with a view to the bearing thereon of the provisions of the treaty between the United States and Great Britain of November 18th, 1901. The communication sums up the proposals mentioned as, (1) to exempt all American shipping from tolls; (2) one to refund to all American ships tolls which they might pay; (3) one to exempt from the payment of tolls American ships engaged in the coastwise trade and (4) one to repay to the last named class of American ships tolls which they might pay. The communication indicates it to be the opinion of His Britainic Majesty's government that to exempt all American shipping from the payment of tolls would involve an infraction of the treaty and indicates further the opinion that there would be no difference in principle between charging tolls only thereafter to refund them, and remitting such tolls altogether. The opinion is expressed that the method of charging but refunding tolls, while perhaps complying with the letter of the treaty, would still contravene its spirit. The communication admits that there is nothing in the Hay-Pauncefote treaty to prevent the United States from subsidizing its shipping but claims that there is a great distinction between a general subsidy, either to shipping at large or to shipping engaged in any given trade, and a subsidy calculated particularly with reference to the amount of use of the canal by the subsidized lines or vessels. Such a subsidy, if granted, would not, in the opinion of His Britanic Majesty's government, be in accordance with the obligations of the treaty.

"With respect to the proposals that exceptions shall be given to vessels engaged in the coastwise trade the communication states that it may be that no objection could be taken if the trade should be so regulated as to make it certain that only bona-fide coastwise traffic which is reserved for American vessels would be benefitted by this exemption; but that it appears to His Britanic Majesty's government that it would be impossible to frame regulations which would prevent the exemption from resulting in a preference to American shipping and consequently in an infraction of the treaty."

WADLEY SCHEME ENDORSED.

Cotton Holding Plan Favored by Southern Cotton Corporation.

Atlanta, Ga., July 12.—The cotton holding plan promoted by George D. Wadley, of Macon, head of the Southern Cotton Corporation, was endorsed today at a conference at which several States were represented. Representatives of the Governors of South Carolina, North Carolina, Mississippi, Alabama, Texas, Kentucky and Georgia attended the meeting, which was called by Governor Brown, of this State.

One of the principal features of the plan is a guaranteed price for cotton. To this end a financing scheme is suggested which would enable the organization to control the supply until the price of cotton reached the desired figures.

None of the 17 Governors invited, attended in person.

W. J. BURNS AT S. C. DISPENSARY PROBE

to make some money in the dispensary matter, was introduced in evidence.

Felder said that the letter was forged by F. H. Crauss, a former chief clerk in the law offices of Felder & Rountree in Atlanta, who was an expert imitator of handwriting and who was several thousand dollars short while with the firm when he was discharged.

Felder read an affidavit from his law partner, D. W. Rountree, setting forth that Crauss was a forger and that he was an expert at imitating handwriting. Felder said that Crauss had been his enemy for a number of years and that he went to Newberry, S. C., and forged the famous letter in that city.

Felder said Crauss was not prosecuted because of his wife being a relative of some of Mr. Rountree's relatives. The hearing was adjourned at 2:10 until 3:30. Mr. Felder stated to the newspaper men that he would certainly clean the augean stables today.

THE TWO PLATFORMS.

Wherein Republicans and Democrats Differ on Issues.

Washington, July 11.—There is a vast difference between the platforms adopted by the Republicans at Chicago and the Democrats at Baltimore. The Republican platform is thoroughly reactionary and stand pat. It does not concede that the last Republican administration have erred in their tariff policy, notwithstanding the almost universal verdict of the country to the contrary. This platform still prates about "protecting American workingmen" and "maintaining the American standard of wages," when every citizen with a grain of intelligence knows that both of these are shams and hypocrisies. The Republican platform also is evasive, so that in the remotest event of Republican success at the polls it could be interpreted in any way the high tariff bosses might want it interpreted.

The Democratic platform, on the other hand, is specific and definite. It pledges the party to an exact policy, without any attempt at evasion. It promises, not to "revise the tariff," but to "revise it downward." the wording is so plain and so definite that a child could understand its meaning and intent. Here, briefly, are some of the important promises in the Democratic document:

1. A tariff for revenue only. Immediate revision downward. Trust controlled products to go on the free list.
2. Civil and criminal prosecution of trusts. Laws to stop monopoly and stock watering. Amendment to make the Sherman law effective.
3. A demand for the ratification of the amendments for an income tax and direct election of Senators.
4. Publicity for all recommendations on which Presidential appointments are made; for the ownership of newspapers, and for all campaign funds in national elections.
5. Presidential primaries and popular election of national committeemen. The use of money by corporations at elections to be made unlawful.
6. A single term for President.
7. Supervision of railroad, telegraph and express rates.
8. Revision of the banking laws to prevent concentration and misuse of money. No government deposits in favored banks.
9. Laws to improve the rivers and prevent floods.
10. Restriction of the judiciary to its proper functions.
11. Philippine independence, and territorial government for Alaska. Trial by jury in cases of indirect contempt. Encouragement of the merchant marine, but no subsidies. Parcels post and postal express, and extension of rural delivery. Conservation that will not interfere with the rights of bona fide settlers.
12. Extension of the civil service, and no abridgment of the right of Federal employees to petition for redress of grievances.

FLEET WILL BE CRUSHED.

Expedition is to Storm the Very Gates of New York.

Washington, July 12.—The great Atlantic fleet, the pride of the American navy, is to be crushed. An oversea expedition of many thousand men is to be landed on one of the quiet beaches on the north side of Long Island sound. The improvised volunteer army, assisted by a few regular troops, all that could be gotten together in the short space of time available, is to be swept like chaff from the way of the foreign foe. The resistless wave of war is to sweep up to the very gates of New York City, which is to be left without a water supply, blockaded by a foreign fleet and besieged in the rear by a foreign army. All these things are to happen, according to the calculations of the general staff, in the week beginning August 9th, when the National Guard of New England, New York and New Jersey are to combine with the troops of the regular army in the Department of the East in working out one of the great war games, intended to train the militiamen in the defense of their own country.

The joint operations are to be under the supreme command of Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, and the two armies, the foreign attacking force, composed of mostly of the New England militia and regulars, and the defensive army, made up of the New York and New Jersey National Guard, with a small force of regulars, will be commanded by Gens. Edward J. McClern (just nominated to be a brigadier general), and Fred A. Smith, called from Omaha for the purpose. Altogether, there will be about 20,000 men engaged in this campaign, the regulars alone numbering almost 4,000. The most up-to-date tactics and devices will be employed and for the first time in the case of such maneuvers in this country each of the armies will be accompanied by an aeroplane. Orders were issued today to Gen. Allen, the chief signal officer, to send two of these machines to Bridgeport, Conn., from the College Park training grounds here with automobiles, signal corps detachment of eight men and four of the army's expert aeronauts, namely Capt. Chandler and Lieuts. Kirkland, Milling and Arnold.

without inevitably subjecting his own spuriously credentialed delegates to an examination so critical as would expose the falsity of his own contention that he had an honestly elected majority of the delegates. He therefore deliberately chose to claim everything, to cry fraud, to bully the National Committee and the convention, and having thus created a condition which would make impossible a calm investigation of cases upon merit, carry the convention by storm.

"That this is the true psychology of the Roosevelt proceedings becomes perfectly plain. He was there to force his own nomination or smash the convention. He was not there to preserve the integrity of the Republican party, and make it an instrument for the promotion of progressive principles and the restoration of government to the people. Otherwise, he would have directed his floor managers to contest every inch of the ground for a progressive platform before the committee on resolutions and in the open convention.

"But Mr. Rosevelt was not governed by a suggestion of that spirit of high patriotic and unselfish purpose of which Bryan furnished such a magnificent example one week later in the Democratic convention at Baltimore. Instead, he filled the public ear with sound and fury. He ruthlessly sacrificed everything to the one idea of being the one candidate. He gagged his followers in the convention without putting on record any facts upon which the public could base a definite intelligent judgment regarding the validity of Taft's nomination. He submitted no suggestion as to a platform of progressive principles. He clamored loudly for purging his own candidacy of his tainted contests and his tainted trust support. He offered no reason for a third party excepting his own overmastering craving for a third term.'

Williamsport, Pa., July 12.—Two brothers named Tyrice, from Louisa, Va., were found late tonight alongside the Reading Railroad tracks in this city, one dead and the other dying. They had been struck by a train.

We are asked to define the new Florentine party of Roosevelt, Pinchot and Jimmy Garfield. As at present devised we should describe the Florentine party as a feather bed of personality to fall on after an unfortunate attempt, high up aloft, at the Giant Swing.—New York Sun.
